AXIS ALLIANCE WITH JAPAN AGAINST U.S.

Observers View New Military Pact With Germany And Italy as "Clumsy Attempt" to Drive Wedge Between America and Great Britain—Russia Assumes Role of "Great Outsider"

Hull Hints No Change in Nation's Foreign Policy

LONDON, Sept. 27 (A.)—Qualified sources predicted tonight that the tripartite agreement linking Germany, Italy and Japan, signed at Berlin today, will have the effect of tightening economic co-operation between the British Empire and the United States. The agreement, which formally establishes the Rome-Berlin-Tokio axis as a military and economic alliance instead of only an anti-Comintern partnership, was interpreted as a direct threat of intimidation against the United States. It was pointed out that no other nation, with the possible exception of Russia, fits into the terms and qualifications of the pact.

On all sides in London it was predicted that the ten-year pact would have a boomerang effect against its architects, and that the ties linking the British Empire and the United States would be further cemented

HINT RETALIATION

Reopening of the Burma Road, closed recently in a British understanding with Japan, was taken as a matter of course. Qualified sources believed that joint economic retaliation might be taken by London, Washington, Ottawa, Canberra and Wellington against Japan.

There was no immediate official reaction to the agreement, but diplomatic observers called it a clumsy attempt to drive a wedge between the United States and the British Empire by concentrating Washington's attention on the Far East, with the consequent diversion of American energy away from Europe

It was suggested in some quarters that Germany and Italy hope to keep the United States' attention focussed in the Far East long enough to win a quick victory against Britain and then join Japan in dictating a world order which would leave America without an active ally.

FLYERS DIE IN TRAINER CRASH

Wing Commander and Flying Officer Killed in Accident

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP).—Two flyers were killed in the crash of a training plane near the capital late today. The dead are Wing Commander Grenville Hammerton Shaw, Royal Air Force, and F.O. Donald Sidney Thomson Young, Royal Canadian Air Force. Wives of both men reside in Montreal.

The cause of the accident was "not immediately discernible," the Department of National Defence for Air stated in announcing the two deaths.

The accident occurred about ten miles south of Ottawa, a few miles south of the Uplands Air Training School, a unit in the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme. The men were in a training plane at the time of the accident.

CAME FROM ENGLAND

Wing Commander Shaw was born in England in 1907 and was seconded to the R.C.A.F. in January this year. He was attached to No. 3 Training School, Montreal, and his wife resides in Westmount, Que. He was the son of Capt. and Mrs. F. H Shaw, of 15 Stonehill Mansions, Streatham High Road, London.

Flying Officer Young was born at Saint John, N.B., in 1907, attended public schools there; Rothesay Collegiate School, Rothesay, N.B., and McGill University. His wife, Mrs Edna Clayton Young, resides in Montreal, and his father, Sidney Clark Young, at Saint John.

CONTROL OF SEA

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 27 (AP).—British authorities found evidence of their control of the Mediterranean today in the increasing number of companies resuming shipping schedules between Alexandria and Mediterranean ports. Egyptian maritime authorities are studying requests of a number of concerns to resume operations halted when Italy entered the war.

MAY ASSIST RECRUITING

Air Minister Power Will Consider Establishment of Depot Here

The establishment of a recruiting depot in Victoria to facilitate enlistment in the Royal Canadian Air Force, or of an R.C.A.F. medical board for the same purpose, is being taken under consideration by Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of National Defence for Air, the minister intimated in an interview here last night.

Major Power said the need for such facilities for would-be recruits in Victoria and elsewhere on the Island had been brought to his attention by Air Commodore A. Earl Godfrey, A.O.C., Western Air Command, whose headquarters are in this city, and by R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria. The minister will give their representations careful consideration on his return to Ottawa at the end of his present extensive tour of R.C.A.F. stations and establishments in the West.

Under the existing set-up, Victoria boys eager to join the air force are faced with the anomalous position that, while Victoria is the headquarters of the R.C.A.F. for the whole of Western Canada, they must go to Vancouver at their own expense to take their medical examinations. Complaint has been made on numerous occasions that, in addition to the cost of these trips to Vancouver, it is often difficult for intending recruits to obtain leave of absence from their employment.

KING OF HOBOES SENDS OUT CALLS

Telis Million Subjects in U.S. to Join Army or Work in Defence Industries

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27 (AP).—Jeff Davis, king of the hoboes, sent word by grapevine and mail to 1,010,000 "subjects" today to "get off the road" and into military service or defence industries.

"This is no time to be gazing at the scenery," said the man who claims leadership over that type of wanderer who is not afraid to work occasionally. "It is the nation's most critical moment—not hour."

Davis said his decision was reached when Japan's link with Germany and Italy became known. He urged registration of all hoboes.

British Bombers Continue Deadly Attacks on Nazis

Great Fires Started on Both Sides of Kiel Naval Base and Two Ships Believed Hit—French Coast Left in Flames—Roads and Canal in Ruhr Smashed

LONDON, Sept. 27 (A.)—While British fighters today blocked the air lanes to London and along the Southern Coast against a horde of enemy raiders, Royal Air Force bombers, at the height of the day's action, went out across the Channel to pour explosives upon Nazi gun emplacements and ports on the French side.

SAYS PREMIER IS GRAND MAN

Churchill Aids Old Comrade To See Daughter Injured in Raid

DUBLIN, Sept. 27 (CP).—How Prime Minister Churchill slashed red tape so that an old Irish soldier could visit his daughter injured in an air raid in England, was told today by the father, John O'Connor,

When O'Connor, straight and spry despite his sixty-six years, applied for permission to visit his daughter in England he was refused.

SQUADRON MATE

But the old soldier remembered that the Prime Minister had been his squadron mate at camp when Mr Churchill was captured by the Boers in South Africa. So he wrote a letter to the Prime Minister.

Six days later, the passport office called O'Connor.

"Your permit is granted," they told him. "Word has come from London that your trip is to be facilitated by British authorities."

"Ah, he's a grand man, Mr Churchill," O'Connor said today. "I knew I could depend on him. If you want to see, go to the top of the tree."

It was only one more assignment in a commission that now never really ends; to smash up the Nazi springboards to invasion as fast as they can be built or repaired.

Last night and earlier today the Royal Air Force, riding now-familiar aerial routes, attacked the German naval base at Kiel, leaving great flames spanning it on both sides, the Air Ministry said. Two ships were believed hit.

FRENCH COAST AFLAME

Aside from this, the French coast was left aflame in many sections, and British bomb flashes were declared to have risen even above the glare of Nazi searchlights during a pre-dawn attack.

Other targets heavily hit were a new aqueduct and the lock gates in the Dortmund-Ems Canal, a vital communication from the industrial Ruhr to the North Sea, and a high-speed motor road west of Andermunde.

YOUNG AIRMAN IS DECORATED

Sgt. John Hannah, Eighteen, Is Awarded Victoria Cross For Conspicuous Bravery

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—The King has conferred the Victoria Cross on eighteen-year-old Sgt. John Hannah, of Glasgow, "in recognition of most conspicuous bravery." The announcement was made today by the Air Ministry. It was the eleventh time the coveted award "for valor" had been made since the start of the war.

Hannah was wireless operator-air gunner in a plane attacking barge concentrations at Antwerp on September 15. An explosive, incendiary bullet started a fire which quickly enveloped the rear cockpite of the plane. He forced his way through the fire to obtain two extinguishers and discovered the rear gunner had left the craft.

REMAINS TO FIGHT FIRE

Hannah chose to remain to fight the fire. When the extinguishers were emptied, he used log books to beat the flames while thousands of machine-gun bullets exploded and he was almost blinded by the white heat from aluminum melting away. Hannah extinguished the fire and then crawled forward and ascertained that the navigator had left the craft. He passed the latter's log and maps to the pilot, who brought the plane successfully to its base. Hannah was badly burned about the face and hands.

Plucky Youngster's Knowledge of Codes Helped Rescue Plane

Boy Survivor of City of Benares Disaster Signals To Flying Boat Far Out in Atlantic Ocean—Was Boy Scout

LONDON, Sept. 27 (A.)—The pilot of the Sunderland flying boat which rescued forty-six survivors stranded in a lifeboat for eight days after the City of Benares was torpedoed 600 miles out in the Atlantic, told tonight how the knowledge of signals of a plucky young survivor made the rescue possible.

Exhausted after the long spell in the open lifeboat of the ship that was carrying refugee children to Canada, and almost unable to stand, the boy struggled to his feet and, waving something white, spelled out the name of the ill-fated vessel.

One of the other young survivors said that it was a seaman that signaled, but the pilot of the Sunderland, an Australian Air Force plane, was certain that it was the plucky youngster.

The pilot said that "Through my glasses I could see people in the drifting boat quite clearly.

"A little chap who appeared to be wearing a Boy Scout's uniform and who was lying down amidships, spotted us. He stood up at once and began waving his arms. Then he picked up something white, probably a handkerchief, and began to signal.

"I did not get the idea for a

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Sept. 27 (By Cable).—Italy is now out to obtain all the spoils of war she can in the Mediterranean, points out The Times today in a survey of the international situation. The collapse of France is her great opportunity.

Already Germany has put an end to Mussolini's hopes of the main expansion for Italy in Southeastern Europe. Balkan politicians are no longer summoned to Rome, but to Vienna or Salzberg, and decisions supposedly taken by the Axis are really taken by Germany alone. Mussolini is, therefore, turning to the dismemberment of French territory in North Africa by way of compensation.

He would like to have Syria as a jumping-off place in the Eastern Mediterranean, says The Times, but it adds that Egypt is his real aim, for only thus can he wind up Italian control of the Mediterranean.

However, complications are introduced by Hitler's wish to get mastery of Morocco. Mussolini has no great desire to see the Germans replace the British in the Western Mediterranean, says The Times, which does not think Spain is ready to be lured into joining fellow-dictatorships.

* * *

The Mediterranean, adds the newspaper, seems certain to become shortly a very important theatre of war. In this development, failure of German air attacks on Britain may cause Spain to continue her neutrality and Mussolini to wonder if he has not backed the wrong horse.

* * *

Fresh Axis threats against Greece and a continuance of German penetration of Rumania are taken in Bucharest to be the first fruits of Von Ribbentrop's talks in Rome.

Apparently Germany has now agreed to allow Italy to bully Greece. Turkey is believed to have given the Greek dictator explicit assurances of immediate military aid in the event of attack.

* * *

As an indication of the worsening of relations between Germany and Russia, reports from Vienna say that close diplomatic contact has not existed for weeks past. There is little doubt now, says The Times' Bucharest correspondent, that Hungarian excesses against the Rumanians in Transylvania amounted to a massacre.

R.A.F. BOMBERS ATTACK SOLLUM

Italian Concentrations Are Bombed—South African Squadrons Raid Fort

CAIRO, Sept. 27 (AP).—An R.A.F. communique issued Friday night:

"Two raids were carried out on enemy concentrations at Sollum yesterday, one on the airdrome and the other on the camp.

"Direct hits were scored on three aircraft and a fourth was probably severely damaged. It was not possible to observe the extent of damage caused by the air raid on the camp.

"Successful attacks were carried out at Majl, in Abyssinia, by South African squadrons on September 25.

AIRDROME SET AFIRE

"Waves of aircraft bombed the military buildings and airdrome. Direct hits with heavy bombs were obtained on airdrome and a large fire started.

"Numerous reconnaissances over Abyssinia (Ethiopia) and Italian Somaliland were undertaken by other South African aircraft, September 25-26.

"Operating from the Sudan, R.A.F. bombing aircraft raided Assab. From these many operations all our aircraft returned safely."

Their Majesties Watch Battle in Air Over London

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—The King and Queen, standing on the edge of a huge crater, today watched anti-aircraft shells bursting and Royal Air Force fighters pursuing a German bombing formation. They took cover before resuming a tour of the bombed areas.

DIES IN PRISON

MADRID, Sept. 27 (AP). — Julian Besteiro, seventy-year-old Socialist leader and last head of the Spanish Republican Government, died tonight in prison at Carmona, Sevilla Province, of tuberculosis.

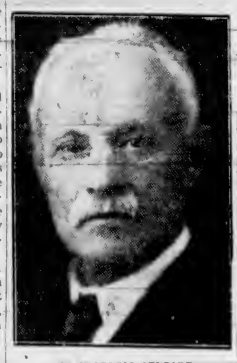

Besteiro had been in prison since September 4, 1939, when he began serving a thirty-year sentence imposed by a military tribunal which convicted him of helping prolong the Spanish civil war.

SIX RAIDERS IN ONE DAY

Canadian Squadron Accounts for Half-Dozen Nazis

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—The Royal Canadian Air Force squadron participating in today's giant air battle spread across Great Britain's skies knocked down six raiders during a dog fight south of London.

The attack against the raiders by Squadron Leader Ernest McNab's men was made in the company of one of the Royal Air Force Polish squadrons, which accounted for ten Germans during the day.

The Canadians' latest action came two days after Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., had helped them celebrate their fiftieth victory over the Nazis. It marked the seventh time in the last fortnight that the Canadians had been called on to help save London from attack.

HEAVIEST OF WAR

Announcement of the R.C.A.F. squadron's success was made in the Air Ministry's News Service account of the day's fighting. The Air Ministry said today's attacks were the largest yet made on Great Britain.

"There were about thirty Heinkel bombers," one of the pilots said. "They were protected by fifty to sixty Messerschmitt 109's. We attacked the bombers from astern and were ourselves attacked by Messerschmitt fighters from above. We turned towards those and they broke up in disorder and we got four of them.

"In the meantime the bombers had wheeled and were heading south back to France. We again went into attack against them from astern.

"Just afterwards we saw another formation of forty Dorniers approaching head-on. These formed a defensive circle as also did some Messerschmitt fighters above them. Two more Hurricane patrols came in to attack them as we had no more petrol and had to go home."

FAVORS AGREEMENT

VICHY, France, Sept. 27 (AP).—Incidents between French and Japanese forces in French Indo-China have ended and the "new Asia" Franco-Japanese accord is being applied in "the friendly and confident spirit which preceded its signature," the Government announced tonight.

Hundreds of Raiders Attacking Great Britain Meet Heaviest Barrage Since Start of War—Many Parts of Country Attacked—Central London Bombed Twice During the Night

Heavy Artillery Duel Rages Across the Straits of Dover

LONDON, Sept. 28 (CP).—The third week of indiscriminate Nazi air attacks on the world's greatest city ended early today after almost uninterrupted day and night raids. During the night Central London was bombed twice.

While Friday night and this morning's raids apparently were concentrated on London for the twenty-first successive night since the attacks began to follow a regular schedule, the Midlands, northwest, southwest and southeast sections of England and Wales and Scotland also were attacked.

It was estimated the Nazis sent over more than 1,000 planes in the twenty-four hours. The raiders met one of the heaviest — if not the heaviest — anti-aircraft barrages since the start of the war in the air.

RAIDER BLOWN FROM SKY

At least one Nazi bomber appeared to be blown out of the sky above London as the Nazis set numerous fires in the bomb-pocked capital which has withstood the three weeks' air siege without flinching.

Fires sprang up in different districts while the Nazis tried to reach the heart of the city after a day in which they lost 133 planes in desperate attacks, raising to more than 1,000 the number of enemy machines bagged during September. It was the second successive month in which that figure has been exceeded. The Royal Air Force lost thirty-four, but fifteen pilots were rescued.

The fires, apparently caused by incendiary bombs, were brought under control and extinguished quickly. Their glare seldom lit up the sky longer than half an hour.

There were two heavy attacks against Central London, where fire broke out near a famous church. It was put out before long.

QUICKLY NAILED WITH GUNFIRE

The chatter of shrapnel on rooftops and pavements was constant. Gunfire appeared greatest over the southern outskirts, where one raider disappeared from the sky. It was picked out by a searchlight as it tried to dash toward Central London and the anti-aircraft did not take long in nailing it.

Early today rescuers still were attempting to extricate people when a number of terrace houses and a working class district of a Northwest Coast town were wrecked by heavy calibre bombs.

High explosive bombs were dropped in another working class area during the same raid, the second of three during the night.

Seven towns in Northwest England, including a coastal resort, were bombed during the night.

On land, too, a battle raged, an unearthly dialogue between Channel guns, as British and German artillery fought it out yesterday across twenty-two miles of the Strait of Dover. For a time German shells fell at the rate of one every two minutes on the Dover area, and observers presumed British shells were falling at a similar rate across the stretch of sea.

VICIOUS ATTACKS

The night raid appeared to be almost as vicious as any of the day's five raids. The attackers, flying at a tremendous height, were thrown back by a terrific barrage when they approached one Southwestern London area. The engines of enemy raiders were heard in a Western suburb and anti-aircraft opened up shortly afterwards. Shells could be seen bursting in the sky.

During the day the most concentrated anti-aircraft fire yet seen in daylight harried the raiders. Over the Thames Estuary shell bursts formed a dirty pool of black smoke over a wide area of sky.

There were dog fights over most parts of London during the day. In some areas bombs dropped on shops,

WILL CUT TIMBER IN ROYAL WOODS

Canadian Forestry Corps to Be Busy at Balmoral and Sandringham

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 (CP).—The Canadian Forestry Corps will have a big job on its hands in England, the Canadian Forestry Association announced today.

The association said it had been informed that the King has given orders by which the woodlands on his estates at Balmoral and Sandringham will be more heavily cut for the army's timber requirements. At the same time, the King is arranging for the rapid replanting of areas culled of their forest crops.

Many other land-owners have followed the King's example, particularly the Marquis of Lothian, owner of one of the finest woodland estates in the British Isles, the association said.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

United States and Britain Have Edge With Naval Forces

Even With New Axis-Japanese Alliance, the Two Democracies Hold the Balance in Sea Power —Comparative Figures Are Given

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP).—Great Britain and the United States hold the balance of sea power in the alignment of the world's naval forces as a result of the new German-Italian-Japanese alliance.

On land and in the air, the Axis Allies have one of history's most formidable military combinations, but Soviet Russia could tip the scales in manpower.

Official figures and other authoritative calculations present this general statistical picture of the new world line-up of belligerents and the two principal neutrals:

LAND FORCES

Land forces, including trained reserves—Germany, 6,000,000; Italy, 7,500,000; Japan, 6,500,000; Russia, 18,000,000; British Empire, 2,500,000; United States, 600,000. Actual effectives are much fewer, Germany's numbering possibly 3,000,000, Russia's 4,000,000 and Italy's 1,800,000.

Navies — Germany, 400,000 tons afloat, including five or six full scale and "pocket" battleships; Italy, 530,000 tons, with six battleships; Japan, 1,100,000 tons, with ten or twelve battleships; Russia, 300,000 tons; Great Britain, possibly 2,000,000 tons, with nineteen battleships, including acquisitions from France and destroyers from the United States; United States, 1,400,000 tons, with fifteen battleships in service.

ADD TO CABINET

TOKIO, Sept. 27 (AP).—Three ministers were added today to the Japanese cabinet by Premier Fumimaro Konoye. Those named were Kiyoshi Akita, overseas affairs; Yasuo Kanemitsu, welfare, and Gotaro Ogawa, railways.

TO COURT MARTIAL

VICHY, France, Sept. 27 (AP).—The Government announced tonight adoption of a law providing for court martial of all persons establishing "exaggerated" food stocks.

COMMANDS TROOPS

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—Lieut.-Gen. Sir Henry Pownall was appointed today to command British troops in Northern Ireland. His former post as an inspector-general in the Home Guard will be taken by Major-General T. R. Eastwood.

REGISTRATION IS CONTINUING

Monday Final Day for Certification of Firearms In Province

Registration of firearms in civilian hands will close on Monday at provincial and municipal police depots throughout the province, headquarters of the British Columbia police announced yesterday. It is believed that several thousand certificates have already been issued, but the number of weapons concerned will not be known until returns have been made available at Ottawa.

Firearms surrendered by Japanese and Chinese citizens, at the request of the Attorney-General's Department, will be held in the areas in which they have been given up for the present; and receipts issued to their owners covering the property, the police said.

In connection with the general registration of arms, as some of the certificates issued cover a number of weapons, exact figures for the total number of firearms in the province cannot be learned at once. It is expected that this information will be available later, after completion of the registration across the country.

NEW ALLIANCE AGAINST U.S.

were examined carefully by economic experts, who came to the conclusion it would not strengthen either Japan or her European allies as long as the Royal Navy holds command of the seas.

RUSSIA AFFECTED

Russia is also affected by the pact, but, it is believed here, to a lesser extent than the United States. Some diplomatic observers took the view that the new Axis agreement simply turns the anti-Comintern pact into a military alliance.

If this interpretation is accurate, the pact has the effect of throwing Russia into a role of a "great outsider."

One diplomat saw the pact as "pitchforking the United States into a crisis in world politics" and as "an admission by Germany that she realizes full aid is being given to Britain and that it will increase in the future, to her detriment."

Thus, it was said, the Reich is "trying to force the United States to face west instead of east," and promising Japan "domination of the Pacific if she keeps America concentrated on her by warlike gestures, which may, however, fall short of war.

GRAVE TIMES AHEAD

"Clause III of the agreement appears to be designed to intimidate the United States and it is difficult to see to what other power it could possibly refer," a British source said. "Japan now has a free hand to do what she wants to in the French colonial empire. I am afraid there are grave times ahead in the Far East not only for our nationals there, but for Americans as well."

Neutral naval sources said the question of American use of Singapore and other British bases in the Far East now has become "highly important."

They declared the Italian-German recognition of Japan's leadership in forming "a new order in Greater East Asia" as the Axis decision to hand over to Japan the Netherlands East Indies and other territories in the Far East.

These commentators said that the greatest good Germany got out of the alliance was to place responsibility for seizing these possessions on the Japanese—"the only nation with a navy strong enough" to attempt to wrest them from the British.

In return for this promise, they claimed, Japan accepts the job of seizing the East Indies' supplies of tin and rubber for the Axis "in face of the British and perhaps the American navies."

FASCIST CLAIMS

ROME, Sept. 27 (CP). — Fascists claimed today that the new German-Italian-Japanese alliance would loose war on two continents against the United States if it sought to intervene to help Britain or offered any "interference" with what any of the three powers conaiders its own concerns.

The new accord, it was said here, is intended to "warn" the United States to stay out of the Anglo-German and Chinese - Japanese wars; to stay out of Europe, Asia and Africa.

The first intention of the alliance, competent sources added, is to keep the United States from allying herself with Britain or attempting to use any British bases in the Pacific, such as Singapore.

TEXT OF AGREEMENT

BERLIN, Sept. 27 (AP).—Following is the official English translation of the text of the German-Italian-Japanese treaty:

The Governments of Germany, Italy and Japan, considering it as a condition precedent of any lasting peace that all nations of the world be given each its own proper place, have decided to stand by and cooperate with one another in regard to their efforts in Greater East Asia and regions of Europe respectively wherein it is their prime purpose to establish and maintain a new order of things calculated to promote the mutual prosperity and welfare of the peoples concerned.

Furthermore, it is the desire of the three Governments to extend co-operation to such nations in other spheres of the world as may be inclined to put forth endeavors along lines similar to their own, in order that their ultimate aspirations for world peace may thus be realized.

Accordingly, the Governments of Germany, Italy and Japan have agreed as follows:

Article I:

Japan recognizes and respects the leadership of Germany and Italy in establishment of a new order in Europe.

Article II:

Germany and Italy recognize and respect the leadership of Japan in the establishment of a new order in Greater East Asia.

OPERATIVE CLAUSE

Article III:

Germany, Italy and Japan agree to co-operate in their efforts on aforesaid lines. They further undertake to assist one another with all political, economic and military means when one of the three contracting powers is attacked by a power at present not involved in the European war or in the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

Article IV:

With the view to implementing the present pact, joint technical commissions, members of which are to be appointed by the respective Governments of Germany, Italy and Japan, will meet without delay.

Article V:

Germany, Italy and Japan affirm that the aforesaid terms do not in any way affect the political status which exists at present as between each of the three contracting parties and Soviet Russia.

Article VI:

The present pact shall come into effect immediately upon signature and shall remain in force ten years from the date of its coming into force. At the proper time before expiration of said term, the high contracting parties shall, at the request of any of them, enter into negotiations for its renewal.

In faith whereof, the undersigned, duly authorized by their respective governments, have signed this pact and we have affixed hereto their signatures.

Done in triplicate at Berlin, the 27th day of September, 1940, in the eighteenth year of the Fascist era, corresponding to the twenty-seventh day of the ninth month of the fifteenth year of Showa (the reign of Emperor Hirohito).

AMERICAN VIEWPOINT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP). — The United States Government made it more than plain today that it intends to follow its present foreign policies—including that of assistance to Great Britain—regardless of the thinly disguised threat contained in the new German-Italian-Japanese military alliance.

The pact was scarcely two hours old when State Secretary Cordell Hull issued a formal statement, saying that it had been fully expected and "fully taken into account by the Government of the United States in the determining of this country's policies."

At almost the same time, President Roosevelt was engaged in activities which scarcely could have escaped the attention of Berlin, Rome and Tokio. In quick succession he received the Marquess of Lothian, British Ambassador, and a party of his colleagues; a group of Americans urging all possible help to Britain, and entered upon a conference with officials in charge of the United States defence programme. A spokesman for the aid-to-Britain group said it had been "enthusiastically encouraged."

The treaty was signed today in Berlin. Under its terms Germany, Italy and Japan agreed to assist each other "with all political, economic and military means" if any one of them "is attacked by a power at present not involved in the European war or in the Chinese-Japanese conflict."

AIMED AT THE U.S.

Since, of all the great powers, only Russia and the United States are not engaged in one or the other of those conflicts, and since Russia is tied to Germany by treaty, many thought the conclusion inescapable that the new pact is aimed directly at the United States.

It was prompted, a prevailing opinion ran, by a desire on the part of the Axis Powers to stop or retard American help to Great Britain and, in the same way, to end such anti-Japanese actions as the recent loan to China and the banning of scrap iron and steel sales to Japan.

The only apprehension apparently felt by State Department officials, who received word of the conclusion of the treaty with a noticeable lack of surprise or excitement, was that it might encourage the extremist group of the Japanese military clique to some aggravation of the situation at Shanghai. There Japan and the United States have been engaged in a dispute as to which should patrol a section which was formerly held by British troops and in which the United States consulate and other interests are located.

There was no sign that the United States is planning further immediate economic moves against the Japanese, but it was plain that several such economic weapons are still held in reserve—including the erection of an embargo against imports of Japanese silk. Such a step many believe, would hit Japan in a vital spot.

SIGNED AT BERLIN

BERLIN, Sept. 27 (AP).—Germany, Italy and Japan signed today a ten-year military and economic pact in which they agreed to collaborate in their efforts to create new orders in Europe and Asia.

The three powers agreed, in the "creation of a new order in Europe and the Greater Asiatic realm," that they would support each other mutually with all economic and military means should they be attacked by any power not at present a belligerent in the European or Far Eastern conflicts.

(Fascists in Rome declared the pact was intended to forestall United States entry into the second Great War.)

RECOGNIZE LEADERS

Germany and Italy agreed Japan would be recognized by them as the leader in the creation of a new order in Asia. Japan, in turn, recognized Italy and Germany as the leaders in the creation of a new order in Europe.

The agreement set forth specifically that in no way was the individual relationship between any of the contracting parties and Soviet Russia to be affected.

The new treaty was announced in one of the most pretentious ceremonies of the Nazi regime.

Foreign diplomats, the foreign and German press and other dignitaries gathered in the great reception hall in Hitler's Chancellery while the general outline of the treaty was read in several languages over a world-wide radio hookup.

Signatories of the pact were Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister; Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, and Saburo Kurusu, Japanese ambassador to Berlin.

COMMENT IN TOKIO

TOKIO, Sept. 27 (AP).—Japan's new alliance with Germany and Italy does not mean Japan is going to enter the war, the Foreign Office spokesman, Yakichiro Suma, said today.

He said Japan has not abandoned hope of composing her differences with United States.

Suma declined to comment on the fifth article of the pact which says it has no bearing on existing commitments of the signatories with the Soviet Union.

"We are not going to participate in the European war. We are not going to attack any country," Suma said, adding the purpose of the pact was to solidify the community of interests of the signatories.

The signing of the pact came at a time when Japanese sources asserted the United States, having embargoed scrap metal shipments to Japan, definitely had allied herself with Britain and China.

A clash between Japan and the United States "now seems inevitable," said the influential newspaper Asahi.

Suma said such words as "attacked" and others used in the summary were more closely defined in the actual text of the treaty, which might be published in the future.

Asked directly whether the treaty would be applied to Soviet Russia if she attacked any contracting party, Suma replied, "The treaty neither is delimited to any one country nor does it except any one country."

He said the article regarding the Soviet Union is "clear as it stands."

RELIEF LISTS IN B.C. LOWER

Numbers of Applicants in Receipt of Direct Aid Is Cut in Half

Expanding employment, enlistment of men with the colors, and the segregation of unemployables cut British Columbia relief rolls in half during August, compared with the corresponding month last year. Total numbers of persons on relief, including dependents, were 23,998 compared with 46,129 applicants registered in August, 1939, according to E. W. Griffith, relief administrator for the province.

Among those considered employable were 5,758 heads of families with 15,055 dependents; and 3,185 single men, totaling 23,998 persons on provincial rolls at the end of last month. Unemployable individuals numbered 10,146, which included 2,000 heads of families with some 4,000 dependents, and approximately 4,000 single men.

The reduction of the total list of applicants for the period was just short of 50 per cent.

SCOTS DONATE MONEY FOR WAR

United Scottish Societies Contribute $1,200 Toward Prosecution of War

At a meeting of the war effort committee of the Victoria United Scottish Societies last night, it was announced that a total of $1,200 was to be contributed immediately to two different organizations, as a contribution toward the prosecution of the war.

One thousand dollars will be forwarded the London Lord Mayor's Fund, for the assistance of air-raid sufferers. One stipulation was added to the donation, insisting that the money be used for air-raid sufferers throughout the entire British Isles, rather than for those in London only.

An additional $200 will be used to purchase material comforts for the men of The Canadian Scottish Regiment, who will be leaving the city in the near future. The money will be used to make the soldiers' journey somewhat more pleasant than it might otherwise be.

The United Scottish Societies are composed of the Victoria Highland Games Association, the Vancouver Island Pipers' Association, the Knights and Dames of the Thistle, the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, and the Burns Club. The executive includes Dr. Wallace R. Gunn, as chairman; W. G. Gamble, as vice-chairman, and E. M. Whyte as secretary-treasurer.

B.C. HIGHWAYS GET CRITICISM

Government's Allocation of Road Funds Under Fire at Luncheon Meeting

Criticism of the Provincial Government's allocation of monies for highway construction and maintenance by James Forman at a luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday of the Victoria Real Estate Board, precipitated a lengthy discussion of the condition of British Columbia roads.

Mr. Forman drew attention to recent press articles condemning provincial highways, particularly in the Interior of the province, and charged the Government with a "breach of faith" in not spending on road construction the monies raised by the gasoline tax, which he said was the intent of the tax.

Terming the Government "what might be called a benevolent oligarchy with a caucus behind it," he declared that British Columbia roads were "deplorable," and suggested the board do something about it.

Duncan MacBride agreed that some representations should be made, but suggested the board should confine its attention to Island roads, asserting that Mainland interests would see that they got their share of road allocations.

CANNOT GET FUNDS

Major Cuthbert Holmes remarked that he had recently driven over 2,000 miles of British Columbia roads, and while he was not prepared to say that they are as good as they should be for the money spent on them, he was of the opinion that they were vastly better than they were ten years ago.

J. W. Jones, former Minister of Finance in the Tolmie Government, asserted that British Columbia roads were not in a condition to attract visitors, but pointed out that "roads can't be built without money, and those in charge claim they can't get sufficient funds from the Legislature to better the roads."

Revenues had gone up ten or twelve million dollars in the last ten years, he said, but expenditures on highways had not kept pace with this increase. He stated that funds cannot be allocated for a specific purpose from any one tax, as they must go into the consolidated fund, but added that the Government could take out enough to spend on highways. He urged that representations be made without delay, as departmental estimates were now being made up.

Mr. Forman declared that "if this money can't be allocated, it's time we found a way to do so. California State gasoline taxes are devoted to roads—what they can do, we can."

J. O. Cameron advocated the extension of the Jordan River Road to Port Renfrew, in order that Victoria might get some benefit from the large lumber company payrolls there. At present Port Renfrew gets its supplies from Vancouver, he said.

PACT TO MAKE NO DIFFERENCE

U.S. Fraternal Head Says America Will Continue Help to England

The Japanese pact with the Rome-Berlin Axis powers will not alter the attitude of the American people towards helping Great Britain's war effort, in the opinion of William C. Root, New York, supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, a fraternal organization with 65,000 members in Canada and the United States.

Visiting Victoria on a good-will tour to contact local officers of the society, Mr. Root said yesterday: "I think the American people will stand their ground and continue to give all possible assistance to England."

The supreme regent is accompanied here by Mrs. Root, a native of Montreal. "Our family is international as well as our fraternity, you see," remarked Mr. Root.

Mr. Root mentioned that when the supreme council was in session last month at Swampscott, Mass., a resolution of support and sympathy to Canadian members was passed, in view of the conflict in which Canada was engaged "to preserve our ideals of personal liberty and freedom.

"And why not?" added the supreme regent. "The United States and Canada are dovetailed—we are one people."

Shortly after his arrival at the Empress Hotel, Mr. Root conferred with Carl Stocker, past grand regent of the jurisdiction of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia; H. J. Applegate, grand vice-regent, and Robert Crombie, regent of the Majestic Council of Victoria.

Last night at a dinner conference with officers and members of the local council, Mr. Root explained the programme for the new supreme council year, adopted at the Swampscott sessions. Tonight he will attend a Majestic Council meeting.

Plans Complete for Tag Collection Here In Aid of Sufferers

Greater Victoria Today Is Urged by Mayor Andrew McGavin to Make Generous Response to The Fund for Bombing Victims

ALL arrangements have been completed for a Greater Victoria tag collection today in aid of Nazi bombing victims in the British Isles. More than 500 aldermen's wives, firemen, policemen, members of other civic departments and willing workers will collect at eighty street corners in shifts of one to two hours from 8:30 o'clock until 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Andrew McGavin is chairman of the committee in charge of the drive.

"In view of the plight of hundreds of unfortunate bombing victims in the British Isles, I hope the response to the tag day will be most generous," Mayor Andrew McGavin stated yesterday.

"Although separated by many miles of sea and land, our hearts go out to those in the Old Country. I sincerely hope the tag day in aid of the Mayor's Fund will be the biggest held to date," Chief J. A. McLellan declared.

Fire Chief Alex Munroe, who readily agreed to serve as a tagger, added a fervent wish that the public would lend its most hearty response to the worthy cause.

FUND GROWING

Mayor McGavin revealed yesterday afternoon that $3,186 had been received at the City Hall, with a further $1,000 from local Chinese merchants, making the total to date, $4,186. He indicated that discussion would be held in the near future on plans to make the Mayor's Fund a permanent one.

Reeve R. R. Taylor, Oak Bay, will take his place among taggers in the municipality.

At the City Hall a man walked in with an unopened $1.50 bottle of vanilla extract.

"I have no money. Can you use this to help the Mayor's Fund?" he asked.

A civic employee promptly placed $1.50 in the fund and put the bottle in his pocket to take home to his wife.

In a Saanich school, a teacher announced that children would be permitted to make an individual contribution to suffering youngsters in the British Isles. Promptly a small hand shot in the air. "Here is ten cents. I was going to use it for my lunch," the girl smiled.

FROM SOLARIUM

In the midst of collections at the City Hall, the assistant treasurer received $9.19 from the boys' ward at Queen Alexandra Solarium in aid of the air supremacy drive. Several similar donations have been made by the children.

Alderman W. H. Davies announced with regret that the Canadian Scottish Regiment boxing tournament at Royal Athletic Park had been canceled on account of the men having received forty-eight hours' leave.

This morning the Royal Canadian Navy Band and the 1st Battalion, The Canadian Scottish Regiment, Pipe Band will parade through the business district. The Victoria Boys' Band will march through the city in the afternoon.

VICTORIA FLYER REPORTED DEAD

Squadron-Leader R. G. Coventry, R.A.F., Killed in Accident in England

SQUADRON LEADER R. G. COVENTRY

Squadron-Leader Robert G. Coventry, young Victoria airman who has seen ten years' service with the Royal Air Force in Britain and the Near East, was killed in an airplane accident in England, according to cabled advice received by his mother, Mrs. T. G. Coventry, Falkland Road, Victoria.

Squadron-Leader Coventry had latterly been acting as an instructor in England. Only about three months ago he and his brother, H. Reginald Coventry, who is also serving with the Royal Air Force, celebrated in England the latter's promotion to the rank of squadron-leader. Mrs. Coventry's third son, Private V. Gerald Coventry, is serving with the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps in this area.

Born in Alberta twenty-seven years ago, Squadron-Leader Robert Coventry came here at the age of five, with his parents, Hon. T. G. Coventry, former member of the Provincial Legislature, and Mrs. Coventry, and was educated at Monterey and Oak Bay High Schools, as were his two brothers. He continued his studies at Victoria College before going to England to join the Royal Air Force. He served with the Near East Squadron in Egypt, Palestine and Iraq.

Squadron-Leader Coventry leaves a wife and one little daughter in England. He was a cousin of the Earl of Coventry, who was killed in action with the Worcestershire Regiment before Dunkerque.

BRITISH CONTINUE DEADLY ATTACKS

Among the Nazi-held ports, Le Havre was particularly hard hit, with scores of bombs falling on the railway quay, the basin and docks, causing fires visible forty miles away. Earlier this week Le Havre was bombed by the R.A.F. for seven hours.

LARGE VESSEL HIT

In amplification of an official communique, the news service said a "large vessel lying at anchor is believed to have received a direct hit" at Kiel.

One pilot reported leaving a "colossal red and orange fire" on the east side of the harbor basin. A large fire also was started on the west side and another vessel was presumed hit, the news service said.

The Royal Air Force set off roaring flames along the 100 miles of continental coast from Zeebrugge, Belgium, to France's Cap Gris Nez, little more than twenty miles from the English coast.

The Royal Air Force started first at Dunkerque, then struck at Calais, Boulogne and Cap Gris Nez, and then returned north to complete the raging string of fires with an attack on the Ostend area.

SPENT LIFE IN WEATHER STUDY

Sir Frederic Stupart, Pioneer of Canadian Service, Dies in Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP). — Sir Frederic Stupart, internationally famous as a meteorologist and who retired as director of the Dominion Meteorological Service in 1929, died tonight following an illness of three weeks. He would have been eighty-three next month.

Sir Frederic, one of the pioneers in meteorology, retired as director of the meteorological service in January, 1929, after serving thirty-four years as Canada's "weatherman." He was seventy-one years old when he was succeeded by his assistant, J. Patterson, and during his long term of service he saw the science of meteorology grow to be one of the most important branches of Government work in the Dominion.

BORN NEAR TORONTO

Born near Toronto October 24, 1857, son of Capt. Robert Douglas Stupart, R.N., and Eliza Lee Stupart, Sir Frederic was educated at a private school and at Upper Canada College. He entered the Canadian meteorological service in 1872, two years after the introduction of the weather map.

For some years prior to the death of Professor Charles Carpmael, Sir Frederic was senior inspector and probability officer of the Toronto Observatory. From 1884 until 1885 he had charge of the chief station in the Hudson Straits in conection with the Canadian expedition for reporting on the navigation in the straits. He was appointed director of the meteorological service in 1894.

WRITER OF NOTE

Sir Frederic's contributions to meteorological literature have appeared in the transactions of the Royal Society of Canada, the transactions of the Royal Canadian Institute, the journal of the Royal Astronomical Society, the United States Monthly Weather Review, the bulletin of the American Meteorological Society; Polar Research, published by the American Georgraphical Society, and the Canada Year Book. These form an important contribution to modern knowledge of the Canadian climate and of the character of Canadian Winters.

He was a member of the Royal Astronomical Society since its formal organization in 1890, and was its president in 1902 and 1903. He was a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, and from 1906 to 1907 was president of the Royal Canadian Institute, of which he was the oldest active member. He was elected a member of the International Meteorological Committee in 1907. He was created knight bachelor by King George in 1906 in recognition of his contribution to scientific development in the British Empire.

Sir Frederic married Marion Dallas in 1886. Of two sons, one was killed while serving with the Canadian forces in the first Great War at the battle of the Somme, and the other achieved distinction as an aviator, winning the Distinguished Flying Cross during the first Great War and retiring from active service as a flight commander.

Modern daughter: "Daddy, I've come to confess."

Fond father: "What is it this time?"

Daughter: "I've been kissed."

Father: "Oh, dear—how many times?"

Daughter: "Daddy! I came to confess, not to boast."

TRADE UNION LEADERS END CONVENTION

Canadian Congress Deals With Many Resolutions—Meet Next at Calgary

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—In a last-minute rush of business, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today protested against all forms of war profiteering, against the Federal wartime budget and decided to demand that the cost of Canada's war be placed on the shoulders "of those who are best able to bear it."

The resolution of protest was one of many dealt with by the congress before it ended its week-long annual convention here and decided to meet in the city of Calgary in 1941.

The resolution was sponsored by the Vancouver division of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railwaymen, and charged that the recent Dominion budget "places a great hardship on the workers of this country," with practically the whole cost of the war "placed on the shoulders of those least able to pay." It received unanimous endorsation.

RIGHT OF WORKERS

The congress also endorsed a Winnipeg resolution calling for Dominion legislation giving full protection to Canada's workers in their right to join labor unions, and which would outlaw company unions. Amendment of the British North America Act to allow such legislation also was asked, along with a permanent tribunal to administer the legislation.

An Ottawa Falls resolution, asking support for a plan to bring young and aged relatives of British trade unionists to Canada for the duration of the war, was amended and then endorsed. As amended, it would not set up any evacuation scheme, but would give support to the Government in any such scheme.

The congress also went on record to the effect that Canadians in the fighting services be retained on Government payroll after the war until given steady employment, and free transportation be provided soldiers, sailors and airmen when on leave.

A Calgary resolution, suggesting a Government-sponsored insurance plan for enlisted men, was referred to the incoming executive for action.

AGAINST PROHIBITION

The congress reaffirmed its former stand on prohibition as being "unsocial and morally unsound."

A resolution of censure against Henry Ford for refusing to manufacture engines for Britain appeared before the convention, but was rejected because it dealt with a "personality."

The congress also rejected a Vancouver resolution asking a stand against cadet training in the schools. E. W. Sinfield, chairman of the resolutions committee, said that, "considering the state of war in which we find ourselves today, this is not the opportune time for the introduction of such a resolution."

A resolution asking labor's co-operation with Government-sponsored boards and commissions, set up to prevent undue increases in the price of commodities, also was endorsed.

E. A. Jamieson, president of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council, was chosen as the congress' fraternal delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention, to be held at New Orleans in November.

President Tom Moore, of Ottawa, re-elected to his twenty-third year in that post, was granted an honorarium of $1,000. A grant of $2,000 was made to retiring Secretary-Treasurer R. J. Tallon, of Ottawa, who has been appointed to the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

McGeer Election Is Conceded In Mackenzie Poll

MANFRED McGeer, Liberal candidate in Mackenzie riding, was leading by 547 ballots, and conceded elected, in returns from thirty-seven polls yesterday. Only nine small polls remained to be heard from as E. S. Potter, returning officer, wired progress counts to Victoria for the day. These tallies showed 2,283 votes for Mr. McGeer and 1,736 for Grant MacNeil, C.C.F. candidate in the by-election.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

LANDSCAPE PICTURES

A good foreground, interesting material in the distance, and a filter to reduce haze and bring out the clouds—these are the secrets of interesting scenic shots for your album.

PICTURES of outdoor scenes form an important part of your album and opportunities for these landscape pictures can be found wherever you go. However, to make the most of an outdoor scene, here are some points to keep in mind.

First, always include a foreground—especially when you shoot broad, open scenes. "Foreground" simply means something of interest near the camera. If you are on a hilltop, and want to picture the valley below, don't stand at the very edge of the hill. Back up a little way so that you can include a tree or a guard rail—or better still, a person admiring the scene.

Second, when you shoot distant scenes always use a color filter if there is the least bit of haze in the air. With the popular types of "chrome" and "pan" films, a yellow filter will show the scene just about as you see it; but without a filter, the distant parts may seem too hazy. For great clearness in distant scenes, use a deep yellow G filter, or use "pan" film and a red A filter.

Third, don't overlook pleasing nearby bits of landscape. The broad distant scenes appeal to the eye—but often small scenes make more attractive pictures. A curving brook, a little waterfall, a pasture corner formed by an interesting stone wall or rail fence, a turn in a country road with overhanging trees, all these can yield delightful pictures, when you choose your camera position with care.

The camera position has a great deal to do with the success of your scenic shots. Note the picture above. The fisherman makes a good spot of interest in the foreground, the mountains lend interest in the distance, and a filter brought out the clouds. However, the picture would be still better if the camera had been held lower and nearer the fisherman. That would narrow the strip of water, and bring the man's head higher in the picture space—thus breaking the straight, level water line in the distance.

Remember these points in shooting scenic pictures—a filter, a foreground, and a well-chosen camera position. Practice landscape shooting in the late Summer and Autumn months, and be ready for Winter scenes later. Good scenic shots add to your album—no matter what their season.—John van Guilder.

THE BERLIN-ROME-TOKIO AXIS

The ten-year mutual assistance pact signed yesterday by Germany, Italy and Japan is an end towards which Herr Hitler has worked for the past three years. It is a happening which, perhaps naturally, will be taken more seriously on this continent than in Great Britain. It is designed primarily as a threat to the United States, as a warning to that country, and it was brought to a head by a series of happenings of which the latest has been the Japanese invasion of French Indo-China and the American reaction to that event. Within the past week the United States has arranged another loan to China, and has put an embargo on scrap iron shipments to all countries other than those of the American continents and Great Britain. As well as these factors there has been growing exasperation in Japan over the long-delayed postponement of success in the campaign against China. Japan's frustration in this respect has been blamed on the aid given to the Chinese by the United States.

In the fall of European nations before German armies, Japan has seen new opportunities for extending her sway in the Orient. Already she is penetrating French Indo-China, and there is hardly a doubt that, reinforced by her new mutual assistance pact, she will before long start operations in the Dutch East Indies, that storehouse of so many supplies that are needed by Japan. Despite all the contributing influences that have led up to yesterday's pact, there is the possibility that in the end it was conceived hastily. It is an economic and military arrangement. It provides that German-Italian leadership in the establishment of a new order in Europe will be recognized by Japan, whereas these European Powers agree that Japan should be acknowledged as having similar leadership in Asia. A treaty of this character could have many implications, but the most of these are ignored in the text of the pact. Specifically it provides that if any Power, not now engaged in war, should interfere with Japan in the purposes she is pursuing, then Tokio can count on the active economic and military co-operation of Germany and Italy.

No secret is made of the fact that the Berlin-Rome-Tokio Axis is directed against the United States. The amazing thing is that Russia, both a European and an Asiatic Power, has been ignored in the making of the arrangement. Russia, ultimately, may have something, perhaps a good deal, to say about the "new order" in Europe, and, similarly, she cannot view with unconcern the extension of Japanese hegemony in Eastern Asia. One of the first reactions to the pact will be in Moscow; indeed, it is Moscow and Washington, D.C., that are the two capitals where there will be the greatest reverberations. The Russian viewpoint, both as to the future of Europe and of Asia, has been slighted by the new tripartite treaty. That pact, as well, is an overt challenge to the United States, perhaps designed to curtail the help the latter country is furnishing to British arms by creating a situation when public opinion on this side of the world will demand that all energies should be concentrated on defences in the Pacific Ocean.

From the standpoint of Germany and Italy a shrewd diplomatic blow has been struck at Great Britain, but what it means in a potential military sense is not regarded as likely to have any serious effect on the progress of the War. Japan has a great preoccupation in China, one that is exhausting her resources. Under the terms of the pact she has safeguarded herself against becoming involved in hostilities against the British Empire, unless the United States participates in that War. Herr Hitler, with his policy of force majeure, will probably argue that the new pact will have the effect of holding the United States in leash; perhaps he believes that it will "bulldoze" the Administration at Washington into a position where it will adopt the plea of the isolationists to keep out of all conceivable entanglements, no matter how American interests may be threatened. It is certain that the Third Reich will be disappointed if any belief of this character exists in Berlin. The pact is certain to arouse a growing anger in the United States. It is a threat that force will be employed against that country if Japan is not allowed a free hand in dictating the course of her "new order" in the Orient.

It was said at the opening of hostilities between Germany and the British Empire that a world war was in the making. The ultimate truth of this assertion was given a new impetus yesterday.

ANOTHER AIR VICTORY

Yesterday there was far livelier interest in Great Britain over the exploits of the Royal Air Force than in the military and economic rapprochement of Germany, Italy and Japan. German raiders, once more, were given a sound beating, cloud after cloud of them being dispersed, and scores upon scores being sent hurtling to earth or sea. It was a day which gave fresh evidence of the superior fighting qualities of both the airmen of the R.A.F. and the machines in which they engage the enemy. What is known in British sporting parlance as the "bag" was one of the heaviest since the Battle of Britain commenced, and it was made possible by the Germans resorting to their old-time tactics of attacking in daylight in large formations. In the fighting that ensues because of this they are no match for the R.A.F., which turns defence into offence, as has been illustrated so often during the past three weeks.

In the defence of the Motherland the British peoples are gaining new strength and new comfort daily. It is true that Great Britain is sustaining serious damage and suffering considerable casualties among her civilian population. To offset what is happening in these respects there is the much greater destruction being wrought on Germany and on German-occupied territory, and there is, as well, the ever-increasing evidences that the Royal Air Force, even if outnumbered, is more than a match for the Luftwaffe. The continuous destruction of enemy airplanes at the rate of three for every one lost by the British is a process that is a factor in bringing the day steadily nearer when the Royal Air Force will be numerically superior to the enemy, and when there will be an ever-widening circle of destruction of the resources with which Germany fights. Even now, in the matter of raiding, despite the longer distances to be covered in attacking objectives in Germany herself, the R.A.F. has gained the upper hand, just as it has to so large an extent in minimizing the damage which German bombers are able to achieve. The outstanding fact of the War, in its present stage, is that slowly but surely the British peoples are gaining the mastery of the air. It was upon such mastery that Germany had been relying to bring those British peoples to their knees.

OLD THEATRES

In describing the results of yesterday's air raids over London, a dispatch told of the oldest theatre in the great city having been bombed. The first royal licence for a theatre in England was issued in 1574 to Master Burbage and four others, servants of the Earl of Leicester. This licence was to act plays at the Globe, Bankside. The prices of admission in the reign of Queen Elizabeth were—gallery, 2d; lord rooms, 1s. The first play bill was dated April 8, 1663, and was issued from Drury Lane, a theatre for which the patent was granted on April 25, 1662, and the theatre was opened on April 8, 1663. This theatre attained an early fame, chiefly from the fact that Nell Gwynn performed there in 1666. It was burned down in 1671 and rebuilt by Sir Christopher Wren and reopened on March 26, 1674.

Drury Lane is perhaps the most celebrated of all London's theatres. Such noted actors as Cibber, Wilkes and Booth performed there; it was at Drury Lane that Garrick made his debut. It was under Sheridan's management in 1776. Mrs. Siddons appeared there in 1782, and Mr. Kemble, in the role of Hamlet, in 1783. In 1794 it was rebuilt on a larger scale and reopened the following year. Dowton made his first appearance there, as Sheva in "The Jew," in 1796. It was in this theatre in 1800 that Hatfield attempted to assassinate George III. Once again the theatre was burned down in 1809, to be rebuilt by Wyatt and reopened, with a prologue by Lord Byron, on October 10, 1812. Edmund Kean made his first appearance there as Shylock in 1814. Other noted performers who have appeared on its boards were Miss Ellen Tree, Charles Kean, Forrest, as "Spartacus," Mrs. Nesbitt as the "Widow Cheerly," and G. V. Brooke. It was on the Drury Lane stage that Miss Clara Webster sustained burns from which she died two days later in 1844. It has been the scene of opera, both English and Italian, and in later years has been known as the home of pantomime.

While Drury Lane probably now enjoys the distinction of being London's oldest theatre, it was Shakespeare's Globe Theatre which was the earliest of all, though it is now extinct. Shakespeare himself was part proprietor, and it was there that some of his plays were first produced and he himself performed in them. On one occasion, when the house was crowded to excess to witness a performance of Henry VIII, the place caught fire, but the audience luckily escaped unhurt. This incident put an end to Shakespeare's connection with the theatre. The Globe was rebuilt in 1603.

Yet to clever folk a foeman very useful hints may show;
Thus, that foresight brings us safety, from a friend we ne'er should know,
But the truth is forced upon us, very quickly, by a foe.
—Aristophanes: The Birds (Translated B. B. Rogers).

Every man has a bag hanging before him, in which he puts his neighbor's faults, and another behind him, in which he stows his own.—Shakespeare.

Wouldn't it be dreadful to live in a country where they didn't have tea?—Noel Coward.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

With the censors. Reporting in the year 1940 obviously demands a new technique. While the official censors attend to the major items, with enthusiasm, some one should work out the minor details. Take, for instance, city news. Obviously it is unfair to say that His Worship the Mayor will be at the City Hall at 3 o'clock, which clearly identifies the man, the place and the time. It would be a foregone conclusion that a charity delegation would be on the doorstep of the City Hall to meet him. No, clearly the thing to do there is to say something like this: "A popular official identified in an honorable capacity with a corporation dealing with the fabrication and sale of metal receptacles for the disposal of hot ashes, expects to leave an unnamed place for an unannounced destination tomorrow at a time that may not be immediately disclosed." But it might not be worth saying, you know. It might be better to say nothing at all.

* * *

Then, take provincial news. Oh, do take provincial news! Making the proper transcriptions immediately, we get something like this: "Forty-five men and three women, whose practice it has been to go to a certain bay on an undisclosed harbor in the Western Hemisphere, are confidently expected to repeat the experience when the leaves fall this year. They will be received by nine gentlemen whose function it is to explain everything that has taken place in the last twelve months. Their wants will be catered to by ten youths in blue serge tunics, with silver buttons and pillbox caps, one of whom will have a measure of authority over the others, except at meal times. They will be ushered into a large room, with poor ventilation, where there is an electric clock; and will remain there, off and on, while the leaves continue to fall." Even that now, even a meeting of the Legislature properly disguised, would be hardly worth printing. It would be infinitely easier to say nothing at all.

* * *

Then there is the case of a boat launching—and you have to really launch a boat somewhere, because you cannot sink it, or set it floating about loose in the sky. It must go into some water, even if it be only a bathtub. As it is being done today, a boat launching reads a little like this: "Yesterday, before a colorful company, whose hats resembled white daisies row on row, gathered at the water's edge on one of the seven oceans of the world, where a pretty ceremony was carried out with traditional honors. The wife of a member for an undisclosed seat in an unnamed parliament, daintily dashed a bottle of sparkling wine of an unmentioned brand against the hull of the vessel, which was of the same type as recently constructed and launched in another of the seven oceans of the world. Symbolic of the occasion, a brief address was made by the member whose wife had named the vessel, as the ship slid down the ways into at least one part of the Western Hemisphere. As the graceful hull took to the water, the daisies raised their caps and cheered." Despite all our care, even that is a little revealing. Should we admit there are seven oceans in the world?

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any time, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Glancing Over Sport

It is the intention of officials of the Victoria Revellers Canadian Football Club to bring in one or two American grid teams during the coming season for exhibition matches at Macdonald Park, Coach George Deacon disclosed the other day. If such fixtures are arranged the teams will play United States rules for one-half and Canadian the other. By the way, the first game here against Vancouver or Varsity in league play is tentatively set for Thanksgiving Day, October 14 . . . Max Baer, the ex-champion, who was supposed to be all "washed" up some years ago, threw a monkey wrench into the heavyweight division the other night when he punched nineteen-year-old Pat Comiskey into submission in less than three minutes. Max is headed for another fight with Joe Louis. He is No. 1 challenger for the crown without a question of a doubt . . . One basketball official tells me that there is a possibility of four and maybe six teams in the senior division this season. There does not seem that much top flight material in the city at the present at any rate . . . It was just ten years ago last Wednesday that Bobby Jones, Atlanta's great golfer, completed the first and only "grand slam" in the history of the game. Bobby cleaned up in 1930, winning the British amateur and open in the Old Country, and then returned to the United States to capture the national amateur and open crowns, a feat never even dreamed of before.—J.D.

Rabbits Ran Away

For the first time in many years there were no rabbits on display in the class set aside for the fur-bearing animals at the Fall Fair in Saanichton. While Gracie Fields was here she sang the song, "Run, Rabbit, Run." Presumably the animals obeyed . . . A motorist carefully parked his pee-wee automobile against the fender and hub cap smashing curb outside the office of this newspaper and made sure the doors were shut and the windows locked. He took an extra tug at the door to satisfy himself nobody could enter the perambulator and then walked off on business. But half the car was open to the four winds. He had forgotten to slide back the sunshine roof top . . . Several times during the week we noticed two boys trying to do some transfer firm out of jobs. They were puffing along on their bicycles towing a heavily-laden two-wheeled porter's truck . . . Heard over the B.B.C., "Air raid alarms are a boon to a bloke who can get away from his wife's tongue for a night" . . . From a New York columnist, "A man should not go with his wife when she buys a hat. That is her business. Let her buy her own dresses, too. But when she goes to buy shoes the husband should go along in self-defence to see she buys ones that fit her and will not pinch her feet and make her irritable."—G.B.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of September 28, 1890)

Treasures of Art—Dr. W. W. Walkem, of Nanaimo, has contributed two of the very best pictures on view at the exhibition in the City Hall. The one is a view in Northern England by David Cox, the now famous landscape artist; the other is a Greswick entitled "The Austrian Tyrol." The former is valued at $200. Dr. Walkem has also on view in the window of R. Jamieson's book store, four handsome landscapes in oil, and two equally good marine views in water colors.

On the Rock—Last night's fog was a serious impediment to navigation, and all the in-bound steamers were consequently late in arriving. Their whistles could be heard, every few minutes, out in the Strait. At about 7 o'clock it was reported that a schooner had gone ashore near Clover Point, and a half-a-dozen enterprising citizens hurried to the scene. They found that the report arose through a fisherman's boat finding anchorage on a rock. No harm was done.

Ingathering of the Harvest — The beautiful festival of the Harvest Home will be celebrated in St. John's Church next Sunday, in the usual manner. All the Episcopal churches will decorate this year, and all will have special music in connection with the ingathering of the harvest.

Letters to the Editor

No letter in the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 800 words in length.

AIR RAID VICTIMS

Sir,—Just suppose that for days and weeks you had lived under the hourly fear of explosive and incendiary bombs dropping from the skies and then suppose that it was your home that had been wrecked and it was your loved ones that were homeless and you had lost what was essential to bring cheer and happiness again and you heard them crying.

Then suppose that in a far-off land 6,000 miles away a fund was being raised and you lived in that land, and ate, and slept, and enjoyed life without any discomfort, but in your hand you held a coin, and in your heart was a great sympathy and wish to relieve the grief and pain that was being caused to your friends and kin, but you failed to use the coin.

Just keep this picture in your mind and when the opportunity is presented here by the Civic Tag Day for the Lord Mayor's British War Sufferers' Fund today to take that coin and pile it up with other coins to do the things you would like to do.

I have drawn this picture for you to think of, but the coin you give will be you, and your helping hand. If you do not give it, you will just have the coin and nothing else.

BURGES J. GADSDEN.

DISTRESS AND DAMAGE IN LONDON

Sir,—As our Empire is at the crossroad of its existence, it is in dire need of every means of support we can give. Women and children are being killed and driven from their homes in destitution through the ruthless bombing by the Germans.

The prompt action of Mayor McGavin in authorizing and arranging a tag day for Saturday, September 28; for this purpose should receive the unstinting support of all citizens. Let us get behind this most worthy movement and give truly, and so help relieve the sufferers of London.

A. MUNROE.

BELLING OF CATS

Sir,—Re A. P. Sutherland's letter of September 25 on belling cats, I am in accordance with every opinion expressed in the letter, except on the subject of cat-belling. I don't suppose the City Council intends to have us hang cowbells on our cats. I, too, would call that cruelty; but, there isn't a more affectionate nor better loved animal than the feline which bosses our home, and h wears a small collar and one bell of a baby's rattle, which is not cumbersome and quite fulfills the duty it is intended for. Furthermore, he loves his collar and comes a-runnin' to have it put on.

Our "bird-killer" is brought in every night and watched carefully during the season when young birds are learning to fly, but Mr. Sutherland must remember that all cats are not as well loved as ours and many are left out all night to plunder and kill helpless little birds. We can ot stop rats, crows and hawks from killing the birds, but surely we can do as much as possible toward stopping the slaughter of our little feathered friends in belling all cats.

If you could see my cat and still call it cruelty then I am willing to hang a bell on myself and members of the City Council (if I can catch them).

More power to the CCC-BP. (City Council cat-belling project).

H. E. WATT.

RUNNING AMOK

Sir,—I wish to express my thanks to E. W. Abraham for his kindly criticism of my letter to punish, Sunday, September 22. Does he wish one to infer that leniency should be shown to the Devil and all his forces of evil?

WALTER F. LOVELAND.
1311 Point Street, Victoria, B.C., September 26, 1940.

BELLING OF CATS

Sir,—Regarding the belling of cats: There is no cruelty to them in doing this provided the right means are used. We bell ours. We have found that a strong collar is a danger as a cat may be caught up by it and die a lingering death. A loose, elastic collar on which the bell (or bells) is strung is the only safe material to use. Our cat is not worried at all by his collar. We are very fond of him, as we are of our terrier, too. All pet owners should do what is right in regard to their neighbors and the district, as they should in keeping animals healthy, happy and well disciplined.

But those who dislike dogs or cats, or both, should realize by honest study that these animals are essential to mankind. Dogs are our guards and friends and helpers. Without cats we would be overrun with rats and mice. These facts have been proved by experience.

ALICE COLCLOUGH.

AT THE RECREATION ROOMS

Sir,—Recently an appeal was made through your paper for library books, magazines and cards for use in the Recreation Rooms. The response has been prompt and generous. As I do not know the addresses of many of our friends, may I through your letter column convey our appreciation and thanks?

I have arranged to forward surplus magazines, together with 250 discarded library books, for use in the men's recreation room in the new military camp to be operated shortly at Gordon Head.

A. H. HUNDLEBY,
Secretary.
Citizens' Recreations Rooms, Victoria, B.C., September 26, 1940.

SEEKING PEN FRIENDS

Sir,—I am writing this letter to ask if you would please publish my name in your paper, The Daily Colonist, as I would like to have some pen pals in Canada.

I have about twenty pen friends in other parts of the world, but none in Canada, where I want one most of all.

Some years ago my uncle traveled in Canada and he has told me of the beautiful scenery you have there, especially the Canadian Mounties' uniform. My father is a member of the Queensland police force.

It would please me very much if I should be lucky to have a pen friend whose father is a member of Canadian Mounties.

My hobbies are: Cooking, fancy work, photography, reading and corresponding with friends overseas.

My age is seventeen years and I would like to correspond with girls and boys anywhere in Canada about my own age. JOAN POWER.

FREEDOM FROM RATS

Sir,—In your issue of September 25, Mr. Burnside, of Oak Bay, in a letter dealing with the belling of cats, makes the statement that this town is infested with rats.

On the occasion of a recent investigation of a Provincial Government official into the rat population of this city, this official expressed regret that he could not obtain sufficient rats in the city to carry out his work, and in order to obtain the necessary material, the city ratcatcher, whose valuable services have been appreciated by our citizens for several years, found it necessary to take the official outside the city limits.

I am of opinion, therefore, that it is incorrect to state that this city is infested with rats.

CAUGHT NAPPING

The recruit was on sentry duty. He had a piece of pie, which he had brought from the canteen, and proceeded to enjoy it. Just then the colonel happened to come along. He scowled at the sentry, who paid no attention.

"Do you know who I am?" the officer demanded.

Then sentry shook his head.

"Maybe the veterinary, or the barber, or maybe the colonel himself."

The sentry laughed at his own wit. But he wilted as the officer sternly declared his identity.

MISSED THE FUN

The Indianapolis Optimist Club recently gave a turkey dinner at one of the leading clubs of the town for a group of thirty-eight underprivileged boys.

Down in the club lobby after the affair was over, a disgusted little voice piped up: "I had my turkey all et before I knowed it was turkey."

COAL DUMPED UPON MARKET

Nearly $1,000,000 Worth of Fuel Sent to Canada Following Armistice

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP).—How the Wartime Prices and Trade Board successfully disposed of nearly $1,000,000 worth of British soft coal and coke suddenly dumped upon the Canadian market when France capitulated was described in a "now it can be told story" released today by the board.

A great fleet of grimy coal carriers scurried across the Atlantic, unconvoyed, and most of them unprovisioned for an ocean voyage, to prevent their cargoes falling into enemy hands.

Carried across the Atlantic in a fleet of about thirty vessels ranging from small coastal colliers to huge freighters, the coal was originally destined for France, but was diverted when that country asked the Germans for an armistice.

COAL NECESSARY

When Germany first struck down into France and took over the principal large mining areas, British coal had to be shipped over in large quantities to help French industries.

At the moment France asked for an armistice, there were thirty-five boat loads of British coal and coke either en route to France or actually unloading at French ports. They were ordered to proceed full steam to Canada.

On June 30 the Wartime Prices and Trade Board was advised that the cargoes would be landed in Canada in order to prevent them falling into German hands, and that the vessels were urgently required to return at once with fresh cargoes of war essentials.

Coal Administrator J. McG. Stewart and his technical adviser, F. G. Neate, were both in Halifax at the time and they took charge of the job.

There were some forty different varieties of bituminous coal, some of a type not used heretofore in Canada, and it was impossible to know in advance what variety would be in each cargo.

FINE CO-OPERATION

"However, we received most hearty co-operation from the trade," Mr. Stewart was quoted in the board's statement. This co-operation had to do with use of dock and unloading facilities and with regard to "willingness to pay reasonable and even generous prices for these grades in the Canadian market."

By July 8, twenty of these vessels had discharged their cargoes at Eastern Canadian ports and in Newfoundland, six others were unloading and five others were on their way to unloading points from control stations.

One ship went through the Panama Canal and unloaded at San Francisco and Seattle, and all but one of the original fleet has been accounted for, the statement said.

NEWFOUNDLAND SEIZES SHIPS

French Trawlers Loaded With Fish and Oil Taken At St. John's

ST JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 27 (CP).—Two French trawlers, loaded with cargoes of fish and cod liver oil, have been seized by the Newfoundland Government under the emergency powers granted by the Defence Act, it was announced today by Finance Commissioner J. H. Penson here.

The trawlers, Elizabeth Mahe and Finlander, have been in port here for the last two months and have as cargoes 2,100 quintals of fish and nearly 100 gallons of cod liver oil. The cargoes will be offered for sale. The announcement by the Finance Commissioner appeared in a special issue of The Newfoundland Gazette.

It was expected the crews of the French trawlers would be repatriated.

SAILOR WILL GET WALLET

Search of Railway Coach Reveals Bluejacket's Tickets and Money

MONCTON, N.B., Sept. 26.—Sailors are proverbially a happy-go-lucky lot. There is one member of His Majesty's Royal Canadian Navy now speeding on a Canadian National train to a Western Canadian port who literally fulfills this definition. He left an Eastern Canadian port with a party of sailors, and on arriving at Moncton found he had lost his wallet which contained his transportation and a sum of money. Diligent search was made at the time for the missing wallet, but it could not be found. The sailor was tided over his difficulties temporarily and he continued on his way.

In the meantime, the coach in which he had been riding had gone to the railway coach yard for inspection and cleaning as a matter of routine, when Car Inspector Aurele Bourque spotted the missing wallet in the coach and promptly turned it over to the investigation department of the railway.

When the sailor got to Montreal he was advised of the finding of his wallet with everything intact, and it is going forward immediately by Trans-Canada Air Lines air mail to catch up with him at his destination.

HONOR YOUNG CLUB MEMBER

D. Holden Presented With Golby Cup for Seamanship And Club Spirit

It was prize-giving night at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club last evening, and a large number of amateur sailors turned out to watch the presentations and applaud the winners of the silverware, representing sportsmanship displayed during the season's racing events. Mrs. E. Pepler, wife of the vice-commodore, made the awards, which made quite a substantial display in the spacious club lounge immediately before the ceremony started.

Presented by the family of the late Thomas Golby as a perpetual award to be given to the boy or girl member of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club under the age of twenty-one, and who, in the opinion of the officers of the club, has shown the greatest aptitude in seamanship and club spirit during the season, the cup was won this year by D. Holden. There was also an impromptu presentation made by W. H. Golby, on behalf of club members, to B. B. Temple, veteran yachtsman, for his many services to the club during the season.

INCREASE IN AIR TRAFFIC

August Business of Trans-Canada Biggest Since Service Began

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27.—The heaviest volume of traffic—passenger, air mail and air express—since service began, was handled by the Trans-Canada Air Lines in August, according to figures made public today by D. B. Colyer, vice-president. Passengers increased by nearly 2,000 over July, mail by nearly 5,000 pounds, and express by more than 3,500 pounds.

The number of passengers in August was 7,061, an increase of 1,963 over July and 3,881 over the corresponding month a year ago. Mail totaled 65,333 pounds, an increase of 4,781 pounds over July and 21,339 over August, 1939. Express jumped from 8,779 pounds in July to 12,335, an increase of 3,556 pounds and an increase of 8,114 pounds over August last year.

While the new Toronto-London-Windsor service accounted for about half the mail increase, nearly all points on the system showed augmented volume, Mr. Colyer said. Passenger and express increases were also general.

In the first eight months of the current year, the T.-C.A. carried 34,045 passengers, an increase of 22,308, or nearly three times as many as in the same period last year. Mail grew from 276,398 pounds to 421,595, an increase of 145,197 pounds. Express more than doubled, increasing from 24,566 pounds in 1939 to 62,928 pounds this year.

PREPARED TO TAKE ACTION

Order in Council Provides For Detention of Seamen Who Refuse Duty

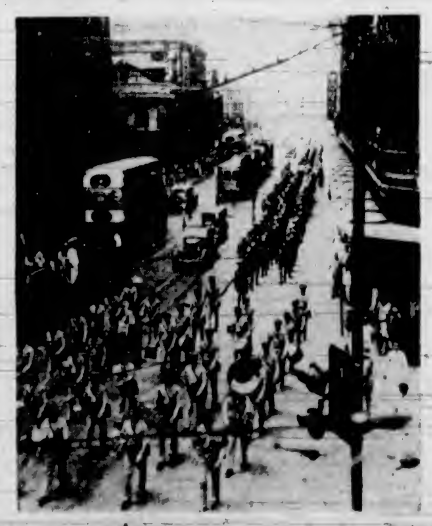

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP).—An order in council was published tonight in The Canada Gazette providing for detention of alien seamen arriving on vessels at Canadian ports who refuse to perform their lawful duties, to sail from Canada or who desert their ship or endeavor to influence other seamen to take unlawful action.

Such a man, the order says, "may be detained at an immigration station for the duration of the war, or until provision may be made for his deportation or until they are ready and willing and actually proceed to serve on a ship sailing from Canada."

The order said that some alien seamen have been refusing to sail and that this action "is causing a serious shortage of seamen and delaying the departure of vessels carrying materials essential to the prosecution of the war, thus interfering with the security and welfare of Canada."

This has been especially the case in Montreal, where a number of Greek seamen had to be placed in custody.

According to Culbertson

It takes three players to make a bridge hand worth remembering. The declarer must be a good player and must do his best, and so must each of the defenders. Were today's hand dealt at any one of a million tables, I venture to say that nothing would be thought of it. But, fortunately for me, since it gave me material, it happened to be dealt in an expert game.

Faced with a sheer guess, West opened the nine of clubs, the unbid suit. Dummy won with the king and East, realizing that repeated club leads would establish South's marked jack, played the discouraging deuce.

Declarer could count four top cards in the black suits and four easily established diamonds. He therefore set about getting the ninth trick in hearts. The heart nine was finessed to West's queen, and West promptly shifted to spades.

Dummy's king of spades won. East encouraging with the queen and the ten of hearts was returned. South ducked this, hoping West would hold up his ace, for, in that event the suit would be abandoned and diamonds attacked. But West won with the ace of hearts and led another spade.

South dared not win, for then the ace of diamonds would be the entry for the running of two spade tricks against him. So he ducked, and East won with the nine.

When South followed suit, the situation was clear to East. The game could not be saved unless West had a diamond trick and then only if the defenders were in position to cash another trick. A spade continuation would not fill the bill, but a return to clubs would. So East shifted back to clubs. Dummy's ace won and declarer was helpless. West eventually won with the diamond ace and led a club for East to take the setting trick.

Note how many chances the defence had to do the wrong thing. A club lead after West won the first heart trick would have given South the game; so would a holdup of the heart ace, and spades had to be abandoned just when the suit looked most tempting.

NO RUSH TO SHIP QUOTAS

Movement of Wheat to Storage Elevator Not Rapid Figures Show

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP).—Figures available tonight on movement of wheat to the Prairie elevators are interpreted by Trade Department officials in Ottawa as indicating there is no rush to deliver the quota of eight bushels to the acre.

With insufficient elevator space to take care of all the marketable wheat grown this year, because so large a quantity of last year's crop is still held in storage, a quota of five bushels to the seeded acre was fixed so that each farmer would get equal treatment. This was later increased to eight bushels to the acre.

Under the eight-bushel quota, Manitoba farmers could have delivered 32,345,000 bushels, but up to September 20 had delivered only 18,000,000. Officials here say that most of the threshing in Manitoba is completed, and these figures indicate the farmers are in no particular hurry to get their wheat to the elevators and thereby convert it into cash.

The same officials regard the Saskatchewan and Alberta figures as not so conclusive, because harvesting is later. The quota provided Saskatchewan farmers with elevator space for 129,373,000 bushels, and 58,000,000 bushels had been delivered on September 20. In Alberta the quota space was 71,800,000 bushels and the deliveries 17,500,000.

Farmers are allowed two-third-of-a-cent-a-bushel storage for each month they hold their grain on the farms. Officials here believe many farmers prefer to hold their wheat on that basis than to rush it to the elevators and turn it in at 70 cents a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern at the head of the Lakes or Vancouver.

George McIvor, head of the Canadian Wheat Board, in Ottawa today said a meeting of the advisory board on wheat marketing, headed by D. G. McKenzie, will be held in Winnipeg next Tuesday and at the meeting it will be decided at what date payments for storage on the farms for the first month will be added to the price paid the farmers when the wheat is delivered. An announcement is expected on Wednesday. After two months the farmers will get 1 1-3 cents added and so on.

Meanwhile officials here today said there would be no announcement over the week-end on what the Government proposes to do about advancing money to tide over farmers who will not be able to turn their wheat into cash after the elevators have been filled.

They held out the hope, however, that the storage quotas would be further increased in certain sections of the country within a week or so and that there would probably be a general increase in quotas about December 1.

B.C. Indians Wish To Give Spitfire To Great Britain

BRITISH Columbia Coast and Interior Indians want to contribute a Spitfire fighter plane to the defence of Great Britain, F. J. C. Ball, Indian agent for the Province, said yesterday, on his return here from a visit to many reserves. The Indians inquired about the cost of the plane, and when told about $25,000 said that they thought they could raise that sum by voluntary contribution among the tribesmen in British Columbia.

STUDENTS ARE GIVEN WELCOME

Presentations Are Made at Junior High School Commencement Exercises

Yesterday afternoon the east auditorium of the Central Junior High School was the scene of colorful commencement exercises, as A. T. Hunkin, principal, officially welcomed the incoming Grade VII classes to their three-year stay at the school. Delegates from several local women's organizations were at the ceremony and presented prizes and first-aid certificates to the assembled students.

Representing the Navy League Chapter of the I.O.D.E., Mrs. T. McGimpsey and Mrs. Aubrey Kent awarded last year's Class 7a with the annual award for good citizenship, a subscription for the school library to The Canadian Geographic Journal. Eileen Chaster, past president of the class, accepted the gift on behalf of Class 7a and thanked the chapter for its thoughtful gesture.

On behalf of the Women's Canadian Club, which was represented at the gathering by Mrs. F. G. Aldous and Mrs. Kenneth Drury, the home economics department was given a cheque to aid in the purchase of textbooks. Mrs. Aldous, vice-president of the club, made the presentation to Miss Evelyn White, teacher in charge of the home economics centre.

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT

Mrs. A. S. Christie, representative of the Victoria School Board, distributed certificates of merit from the St. John Ambulance Association to the boys and girls of the Junior High School who had completed courses under the direction of R. T. Kipling and Miss Sybil Reay.

Trustee Christie said that she was very pleased to note that the school had taken such keen interest in first-aid work, and cited the need for trained persons at such a time of troubled affairs. She said that the Junior High School was very fortunate to have two capable and qualified instructors on its staff.

Unusually Heavy Rains Was Noted

An unusually heavy fall of rain was recorded in Victoria by the Dominion Meteorological Observatory at Gonzales Hill yesterday. For the twenty-four hours ending yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, 1.41 inches fell. However, as it did not rain at all yesterday, the heavy fall during Thursday afternoon and night was responsible for the high figure.

Rainfall previously announced as .06 inches up to 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening was in error. The reading was up until 4 p.m.

Maximum temperature recorded at Gonzales yesterday was 58 degrees, and the minimum, 52 degrees. Temperature, observed on the grounds of the Strathcona Hotel were: Maximum, 60 degrees, and minimum, 57 degrees.

BECOMES CLERK OF HIGH COURT

Hon. Paul Leduc, Ontario Mines Minister, Appointed To Canadian Tribunal

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP).—Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe today announced appointment of Hon. Paul Leduc, Ontario Minister of Mines, as clerk of the Supreme Court of Canada, succeeding J. F. Sinellie, who is retiring on superannuation.

NAZI INVASION PLANS DELAYED

Severe Pounding of Ports Allay Fears of Early Attempt at Crossing

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—Evidence the British High Command considers the threatened German invasion of England "off" indefinitely was seen by authoritative military quarters today in longer and more frequent—perhaps even nightly—British raids on Berlin.

The Royal Air Force, which raided Berlin four successive nights this week but not last night, has not announced the new policy officially, but it has been put down as a "certainty" by some sources.

These quarters point out the R.A.F. is not neglecting the "invasion ports" across the Channel, but the fact the air force feels it can deviate from a policy of concentrating almost exclusively on the German-held Channel coast is taken as a sign of "growing confidence."

FEARS REMOVED

Military informants said the R.A.F. must feel it has battered the German barge concentrations sufficiently to allay the worry the concentrations caused a few weeks ago.

Two other factors also are seen as permitting the switch of targets to Berlin, the rapid approach of bad Winter weather and the reported arrival on the fighting line of squadrons of new and powerful British bombers.

Authoritative military quarters also do not discount seasickness as another potent defensive weapon against invasion.

"We know it sounds silly, but if you have ever been seasick on one of those Channel crossings yourself, you know how much you would feel like fighting at the end of the voyage," they say.

LACKS ADEQUATE SUPPLY OF FOOD

Island of Oahu Has Supply Only for Twenty-Four Days, Survey Shows

HONOLULU, Sept. 27 (AP).—The strongest defence outpost of the United [illegible], Oahu Island, has a supply of staple foods sufficient to last its 225,000 civilian population only twenty-four days.

This was revealed today in a survey conducted by businessmen and educators appointed by Mayor Charles S. Crane, of this city. The survey contemplated a situation in which all food lines to Oahu might be blocked.

For civilian use there was fourteen days of food in the warehouses, another seven days' supply in retail stores, and about three days' in homes, the survey indicated.

On Oahu, where this short supply exists, are Pearl Harbor, one of the strongest naval bases in the world; Hickam Field, huge army airport; Schofield Barracks, with one of the largest concentrations of United States troops; seven forts, and forty military reservations.

Army and navy officials say that in an emergency they could take care of their own food problem, but the responsibility of feeding the civilian population worries them.

If all the livestock, dairy cattle, poultry and hogs on Oahu were killed and rationed, the food supply might be stretched out another two weeks—a total of thirty-six days, the survey estimated.

PACT IS NEEDED FOR HOME USES

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (CP).—The New York Times said today the signing of the German-Italian-Japanese pact shows clearly that the plans of the Axis for the swift conquest of Britain have met with a real reverse "and that they now feel it necessary to call upon fresh reinforcements in the form of the psychology of fear.

"Japan has two motives for entering the alliance," said The Times editorially. "She . . . needs to convince her exhausted people that they have 'friends' abroad and to force the United States . . . to lift the sanctions which now promise to handicap her military efforts, or at least to refrain from imposing new ones.

"On their side the Axis powers are increasingly troubled by the effective assistance which the United States is giving Britain . . . The authors of the new alliance have miscalculated badly if they think it possible to confuse the American people about the importance to us of the successful defence of the British Islands and the eventual victory of Britain in this war . . ."

ITALIANS ROUTED

JERUSALEM, Sept. 27 (AP).—Anti-aircraft guns at Haifa, Palestine oil port, routed Italian bombers attempting to raid the city yesterday without casualties or damage. It was Haifa's eight raid.

NEW JUDGE FOR SUPREME COURT

Sidney Smith, Vancouver Barrister, Is Appointed to British Columbia Bench

OTTAWA, Sep 27 (CP).—Appointment of Sidney Smith, Vancouver, as a justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, succeeding Mr. Justice D. A. Macdonald, who was recently promoted to the British Columbia Appeal Court, was announced by Justice Minister Lapointe today.

Mr. Smith has the unique distinction of being a member of the bar and holder of a deep-sea master mariner's certificate. In the first Great War he served with the Royal Naval Reserve, part of the time on a mine sweeper in the North Sea.

Born in Banffshire, Scotland, in 1888, he came from a long line of seafaring men, and went to sea as an apprentice before the mast at the age of fourteen. He obtained his master's certificate at the age of twenty-one.

SAILED THE SEAS

Mr. Smith came to Vancouver in 1908 and sailed for several years as an officer with the Canadian-Mexican Line before deciding to study law. He specialized in admiralty and shipping law, and to gain local knowledge spent a year as master of a tugboat on the British Columbia Coast.

The war intervened in his legal career, but after returning from overseas he was admitted to the British Columbia Bar, leading the province in examinations.

He has kept in touch with the sea, being a member of the Honorable Company of Master Mariners and a member of the board of examiners of British Columbia pilots.

He lectured for several years on admiralty and shipping law at the Vancouver Law School, and was president of the Vancouver Bar Association in 1939. In the Federal election of this year he was defeated in Vancouver South seat by Howard Green, Conservative, against whom he ran as a Liberal. He is married and has three children.

THREE HURT AT PATRICIA BAY

Accident to Crane Sends Trio of Workmen to Hospital

At Patricia Bay three men were seriously injured yesterday morning in an accident to a recently-installed crane. The men suffered head injuries, which necessitated their removal to the Jubilee Hospital. Two were reported improved last night, but the third was still unconscious.

Frank Thornley is from Sidney, and Thomas Dorrill and Sidney Hodgson from Vancouver. The latter apparently suffered the most serious injuries.

It was believed that the fifty-ton counterweight of the crane, which had been installed on Thursday, toppled the seventy-two-foot crane. Four men were in the operators' cab twenty feet above the ground. One workman jumped clear, but the others were trapped inside the cab. The injured were given first aid at Patricia Bay and removed to hospital in the R.C.A.F. ambulance. Dr. Thomas McPherson attended them.

President Moore thanked the Victoria Local for its unexpected expression of good will, and declared it would find a place on his desk in Ottawa headquarters of the congress.

Claude P. O'Reilly, fraternal delegate of the American Federation of Labor, was presented with an engraved wrist watch, and Adolf Staal, representative of the International Labor Office at Geneva, now established at McGill University, Montreal, was presented with a pen and pencil set.

A former reporter on The Daily Colonist, and latterly an outstanding producer and newscaster of station CJOR in Vancouver, Dick Diespecker has left radio to enlist as a gunner in the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Gunner Diespecker, who received part of his education at Victoria High School, displayed a wealth of talent to the radio world. While on the staff of the Vancouver station he wrote, directed, produced and acted in many productions, in addition to handling news broadcasts.

Earlier this year, Gunner Diespecker joined the N.P.A.M. artillery section as a commissioned officer, and after training for some time, joined the active service force.

ONTARIO FLYER IS DECORATED

Pilot Officer W. J. Lewis Wins Flying Cross for Daring Bomb Attack

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—Pilot Officer W. J. Lewis, of Welcome, Ont., has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for carrying out a daring attack against the barges and power boats concentrated at Antwerp for Hitler's invasion hordes.

As a result of the slender young Ontario aviator's bull's-eye bombing in the face of anti-aircraft fire that riddled his great plane with 100 holes the German invasion armada was decreased by scores of craft.

The twenty-two-year-old Lewis and a number of his squadron mates drove their planes against Antwerp's defences to reach the basin near the centre of the city, where giant motorboats were moored. When flush over the target the bombers were power-dived to 2,000 feet and sticks of high explosives plopped among the boats.

SHOWERS OF SPLINTERS

"Our explosions lifted great showers of splinters up at us," The Canadian Press was informed.

Anti-aircraft fire from the ground was "hotter than all hell," but "Mike," he is called, and the others maintained the dangerously low altitude for more than four miles. Their bombs whistled a "beautiful tone of destruction" among the boats packed in the basin and along the Schelde Channel leading into the city.

When "Mike" got back to his station there was scarcely a square foot of his plane that did not show puncture from an anti-aircraft shell fragment, but neither he nor the men of his crew were scratched. One shell punctured a gas tank and another damaged one of the motors.

"Mike" guesses that "My luck was super-super that night."

PROPERTY TAKEN

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Sept. 27 (AP).—Expropriation of all rural property owned by Jews was ordered tonight by the cabinet of Gen. Ion Antonescu, dictator of Rumania.

EARTHQUAKE IN DENMARK

COPENHAGEN (Via Berlin), Sept. 27 (AP).—A slight earthquake rattled dishes in Copenhagen today, but did no known damage.

HELP!

"Mummy!" called the small son of the house, as he came in from the front garden. "A man wants to see you."

"Ask who he is," his mother replied from inside the house.

A few seconds later the little boy dashed inside, his eyes wide open with fright.

"Mummy," he whispered in tones of awe, "he looks just like a man, but he says he's an insanitary spectre."

Worry Exhausts the Nerves

Only in recent years have the serious consequences of worry and nervous disorders been fully realized. And as they are realized, the value of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food becomes better and better appreciated.
Worry makes you nervous and irritable and sleepless. It destroys memory and the ability to concentrate the mind. It ruins digestion and makes you feel tired and downhearted and discouraged. Why not fight off worry by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to restore nerve force to the exhausted nervous system?
You will not be using it long before you find yourself resting and sleeping better, less irritable and nervous and looking on the bright side again. Your friends will soon tell you how much better you are looking and you will know again the joy of healthful living.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Lightfoot and Paddy Becomes Partners

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

"That's bad news, Lightfoot. I'm sorry to hear about it"

The instant Lightfoot the Deer saw Paddy the Beaver he knew that, for the time being at least, there was no danger. He knew that Paddy is one of the shyest of all the little people of the Green Forest and that when he is found working in the daytime it means that he has been undisturbed for a long time. Otherwise he would work only at night.

Paddy saw Lightfoot almost as soon as he stepped out on the bank. He kept right on swimming with the branch of a poplar tree until he reached his food pile, which, you know, is in the water. There he forced the branch down until it was held by other branches already sunken in the pond. This done, he swam over to where Lightfoot was watching. "Hello, Lightfoot!" he exclaimed. "You are looking handsomer than ever. How are you feeling these fine Autumn days?"

"Anxious," replied Lightfoot. "I am feeling terribly anxious. Do you know what day this is?"

"No," replied Paddy, "I don't know what day it is and I don't particularly care. It is enough for me that it is one of the finest days we've had for a long time."

"I wish I could feel that way," said Lightfoot wistfully. "I wish I could feel that way, Paddy, but I can't. No, sir, I can't. You see, this is the first day of the most dreadful days in all the year for me. The hunters started looking for me before Mr. Sun was really out of bed. At least one hunter did and I don't doubt there are others. I fooled that one, but from now to the end of the hunting season there will not be a single moment of daylight when I will feel absolutely safe."

Paddy crept out on the bank and chewed a little twig of poplar thoughtfully. Paddy says he can always think better if he is chewing something. "That's bad news, Lightfoot. I'm sorry to hear it, I certainly am sorry to hear it," said Paddy. "What anybody wants to hunt such a handsome fellow as you are for I cannot understand. My, but that's a beautiful head of horns you have!"

"They are the best I've ever had, but do you know, Paddy, I suspect that they may be one of the reasons I am hunted so," replied Lightfoot, a little sadly. "Good looks are not always to be desired. Have you seen any hunters around here lately?"

Paddy shook his head. "Not a single hunter," he replied. "I tell you what it is Lightfoot, let's be partners for a while. You stay right around my pond, if I see or hear or smell anything suspicious I'll warn you. You do the same for me. Two sets of eyes, ears and noses are better than one. What do you say, Lightfoot?"

"I'll do it," replied Lightfoot.

Next Story—"How Paddy Warned Lightfoot."

FAIL TO FOLLOW USUAL PROCEDURE

Port Alberni Loggers Ask for Labor Department Intervention in Wage Dispute

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 27 (CP).—A group of thirty buckers and fellers of the Port Alberni Lumber Company's No 1 Camp have asked the Provincial Labor Department to intervene in their efforts to secure wage increases.

The men said they signed a petition asking for the increases, which were refused. They were told to "get their tools," which they understood to mean they were fired. They met and decided to ask the Department of Labor to intervene.

H. Bergen, of Cowichan Lake, an official of the International Woodworkers of America, told them they had broken a clause of the Industrial Arbitration and Conciliation Act in leaving their work without first notifying the Department of Labor and following the regular procedure in wage disputes.

HOW IT STARTED

"IT'S A PIPE!"

Every so often, the cant of the underworld gets promoted.

Result: There becomes current a phrase like "It's a pipe!"—abbreviated version of the original expression "It's a lead pipe cinch!"

The reference is to the lead pipe which serves criminals as an efficacious weapon—it strikes a clean blow, guaranteed to stun—but, found in the pocket, is not so incriminating as a knife or pistol to which no explanation can give an innocent guise.

So, in the jargon of the underworld, a "job" that looked exceptionally easy was a "pipe" or a "lead pipe cinch."

And as to "cinch," that is a good and colorful tale for another day.

WANT CHURCHILL TO USE SHELTERS

Britons Complain Prime Minister Taking Too Many Chances During Air Raids

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP).—Air-raid conduct of the two chief figures in this war got attention in the press today. Britons complained about Prime Minister Churchill's raid habits, and Nazi propaganda sources pictured Hitler as the great humanitarian.

The complaint against Mr Churchill is that he dons a tin hat and roams the streets to watch the nightly German attacks and the defence put up by the anti-aircraft barrage. This isn't regarded as exactly the safest kind of habit to get into.

In Berlin, Hitler was pictured as hurrying when the alarms sounded to an air-raid shelter under his new chancellery, and there entertaining children and expectant mothers, brought there by bus because adequate shelters were not built in the poorer sections of Berlin.

WANTS OUTPUT OF PLANES SPEEDED

Lord Beaverbrook Demands More Defiant Fighters From Aircraft Factories

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP). — Lord Beaverbrook, Minister for Aircraft Production, last night demanded more Defiant fighter planes from the manufacturers. He sent a message to Leonard Lord, Government director of one of Britain's aircraft factories.

"I ask you to give us more Defiants. I impose on you the duty of increasing this output and speeding the delivery of these fighters.

"Use every resource, employ all energy, to secure maximum production.

"The splendid work done by Defiant squadrons in battle makes the manufacture of this aircraft of paramount importance in the defence of our country."

BIBLE TOLD OF WORLD EVENTS

Rev. S. R. Orr to Show That Present Confusion Is Biblical Fulfillment

"How and Where Will the Battle of Africa End?" is the subject of the lecture to be given by Rev. S. R. Orr at the Crystal Garden auditorium on Sunday evening. He will show that the confused situation in Europe and Africa is but the development of the Biblical fulfillment of events long ago predicted in which nations would come to the end of their misrule and tyranny. The questions then to be answered are:

"Where is Mussolini headed? How far does Scripture indicate that he will go overrunning the ancient Bible lands in the Middle and Near East?" "Is the apparent lack of resistance in Egypt a sign that Egypt will be surrendered 'because a desert is no good to anyone, anyway?'" "Is there any time limit to this insane world confusion and destruction?"

"Why did our Lord give us most pointed indications about the end of present-day nations and human governments?" "What three facts indicated by Him have clearly come to pass?" "What stage of the Bible's charter of nations is now obvious in Europe?" "Is it not now abundantly evident that the nation and the church would have saved many blunders if despised prophecy had been understood and heeded?"

Church of England Will Observe Children's Day

STRATFORD, Sept. 27.—Sunday, October 20, will be observed as Children's Day by the Church of England in Canada, it was announced by Rev. Canon R. A. Hiltz, in a report to the annual meeting of the general board of religious education in St. James' parish hall here recently.

Canon Hiltz said it was desired that members of the Anglican People's Association take a prominent part in the day's observance. This was in response to the A.Y.P.A.'s request that a special day be set aside as youth day.

It was suggested that the regular morning service on October 20 might emphasize the idea of a church-going family, that a special service for boys and girls be arranged for the afternoon, and that the evening service might take the form of a young people's service, in which A.Y.P.A. members might read the lessons, act as sidesmen, take up the offertory.

Local A.Y.P.A.'s will attend the services as a body, while special intercession for parents, the home, teachers, officers and pupils, as well as for the general educational work of the church, will be a feature.

Failure to provide adequately for the religious training of the church's childhood would mean, Canon Hiltz intimated, that at some future time the church would have neither workers nor leaders. Children's day should be essentially a day of education.

"Reality" Is Subject On Sunday

"Reality" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is: "Fear not, little flock, for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom." (Luke xii, 32).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "The glory of the Lord shall endure forever: the Lord shall rejoice in His works" (Psalm civ, 31).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us learn of the real and eternal, and prepare for the reign of Spirit, the kingdom of heaven—the reign and rule of universal harmony, which cannot be lost nor remain forever unseen."

"A New Man" Will Be Topic At St. John's

At St. John's Anglican Church the preacher at both services tomorrow will be the rector, Rev. George Biddle. His morning topic is, "A New Song," and in the evening, "A New Man."

After the evening service the young people's group will entertain members of His Majesty's Forces. In the rectory the church-school staff will gather.

DETROIT CAPTURES AMERICAN LEAGUE PENNANT

Ontario Team in First Boxla Win Over Coast Side

Eastern Lacrosse Squad Stays in Running for Canadian Junior Championship by Scoring 19-11 Decision in Third Game of Series —Fourth Fixture Scheduled Monday

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—Ontario All-Stars tonight defeated British Columbia All-Stars, 19-11, in the third game of their best-of-five series, and remained in the fight for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship and the Minto Cup. British Columbia won the first two games. Fourth game will be played at Vancouver, Monday.

On the verge of elimination, Ontario used their weight to advantage, and in the final quarter outscored British Columbia 7-1 to clinch the victory.

Heavy body checking was used throughout by the Easterners, who average ten pounds heavier than the British Columbians.

Ontario went into a 3-2 lead in the first quarter, but by half-time trailed 8-7. They crept ahead in the third to finish with a 12-10 advantage and breezed through in the last stanza.

Both goalies played brilliant games, scooping out many hard drives. Kingsley Crick, British Columbia's star net-minder, was injured halfway through the third quarter, but returned to finish the game in the final hectic period.

Ontario sharpshooters charged into the goal on numerous occasions, and Jack Gair finally knocked Crick over, sending him to the dressing-room for repairs. Dave Yeadon relieved for the duration of the quarter.

British Columbia won the first two games, 16-13 and 23-21.

Line-ups:

British Columbia — Crick, goal; Eastman and McClure, defence; Wood, rover; Arrell, centre; Kabatow and Routley, wings. Subs: Yeadon, Moody, Riddell, Bruce, Lea, McGaghey, Phillips, Lang.

Ontario — Chambers, goal; McKenzie and White, defence; Cunningham, rover; Smith, centre; Gair and Goldham, wings. Subs: Madsen, Hall, J. Hewitt, McGill, Garriock, Carswell, Favell.

Officials—Jimmy Gunn and Harry Gilmore, both of Vancouver.

Rudy York's Homer in Fourth Inning Decides Tussle for Tigers, 2-0

Heavy-Hitting First Baseman Smashes Out Circuit Drive With Gehringer Aboard to Settle Race For This Season—Feller Allows Three Hits —Yankees Are Beaten by Athletics

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27 (AP).—Rudy York, the pale-faced Indian, nullified the three-hit hurling of Bobby Feller today with one lofty home run that clinched the American League pennant for Detroit Tigers.

The homer came with one on base in the fourth inning and beat Cleveland Indians, 2-0, while a riotous crowd of 45,553, a third of them women, demonstrated its hostility to the Tigers with frequent showers of fruit, vegetables and eggs.

One fan dropped a basket of green tomatoes out of the upper deck of the grandstand and hit Catcher Birdie Tebbetts on the head, knocking him out but not injuring him seriously. This incident came after Chief Umpire Bill Summers stopped the game to warn the crowd that every Cleveland player who hit a fly ball would be out if Detroit infielders were interfered with by the fruit-throwing.

Nothing counted after York's thirty-third round-trip ticket of the season after Charley Gehringer had walked.

A short time later the big scoreboard in centre field ran up the 6-2 final score of New York Yankees' beating at Philadelphia and everybody knew the Tigers were in as soon as they went through the rest of the motions.

They did—with twenty-six-year-old Rookie Floyd Giebell, who isn't even eligible for the World Series, checking Cleveland every time the Indians threatened.

SURPRISE STRATEGY

It was a surprise bit of strategy by which Manager Del Baker entrusted the vital task of clinching the pennant to the right-hander who spent all Summer with Buffalo in the International League, winning fifteen games and losing seventeen.

He kept six hits scattered, struck out six—including Ben Chapman, three times—and gave only two walks.

Feller was a gallant figure in defeat. He never quite got the game under control. Although he fanned four, he was frequently behind the batters and walked seven men. Double plays pulled him out of jams in three innings.

(By The Canadian Press)

The four-year dominance of New York Yankees over the American League ended yesterday.

The world champions lost the last slim chance they had of gaining their fifth straight triumph when a one-time Yankee farmhand, Johnny Babich, limited them to five hits, while his mates banged out a 6-2 triumph in the last meeting of the two teams this year.

The right-hand slider-ball specialist is the only pitcher in the league to beat the Yankees five times this year. His fifth victory was the greatest of them all, for old Connie Mack predicted the collapse of the Yanks—and his team put on the clincher.

A single by Luke Appling scored Joe Kuhel in the tenth inning to give Chicago White Sox a 4-3 victory over St. Louis Browns.

Boston Red Sox pounded three pitchers for twenty-two hits as they set a new 1940 scoring high by overwhelming Washington Senators, 24-4.

Pittsburgh's Pirates pounded three Cincinnati Red hurlers for ten hits and a 4-3 decision, but not before the National League champions had carried them to ten innings.

Big Paul Derringer, slated for heavy duty in next week's world series, tried a third time for his twenty-first victory of the year, but lasted only seven innings. Joe Beggs pitched the next two, but the victory went to Truett Sewell and the loss to Lloyd Moore.

For the first time since Carl Hubbell joined New York Giants in 1928 he will finish a season with a pitching percentage of less than .500.

The old master of the screwball lost his twelfth of the season to the Phillies, 6-0, in his last appearance of a disastrous Giant campaign. He won eleven games this year.

Chicago Cubs lost their last chance to finish fourth in the National League and share in some of the world series money by bowing to the Cardinals, 11-1, while Pittsburgh beat the champion Cincinnati Reds.

VICTORIA'S entry in the Pacific Coast Football League will open its season's training sessions this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Heywood Avenue ground. The Coast League will open its schedule on October 5 at Vancouver, and the first match is scheduled here at the Royal Athletic Park on Thanksgiving Day. The league is composed of St. Saviours, St. Andrews, Radials, North Shore and Victoria United. There is still a strong possibility that Nanaimo may enter to make it a six-team circuit.

St. Catharines in Easy Victory in Lacrosse Series

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 2. (CP).—St. Catharines Athletics, Eastern Canada senior lacrosse champions last season, whipped Brampton Excelsiors 25-10 here tonight for their third successive victory in the best-of-seven series for the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior title.

The fourth game will be played at Brampton next Monday, with the series winner qualifying to meet the Western Canada champions in the Dominion titular series opening at Toronto on October 7.

BALMY BEACH IS CONFIDENT

Coach Alex Ponton Expects Gridders to Make Showing This Year

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP).—The reward that patience brings appears to be on the way for Alex Ponton, of Toronto Balmy Beach, who has waited since 1930 for a second Ontario Rugby Football Union title.

Ten years ago Ponton took over Toronto's East End club after six years as a Beach player and led the team to the O.R.F.U. title and ultimately to the Dominion championship.

Since then the mighty Sarnia Imperials always stood in his way, winning the O.R.F.U. title nine times in a row.

But now the Imperials have disbanded—for the duration of the war—and in the renovated league the Beaches look to be the best bet over three new clubs which have yet to prove they are of senior calibre. Beaches' first test will come when they open the season October 4 at Hamilton, against the Cubs.

Ponton has lost eleven of last year's squad, including Eddie Thompson, a halfback on The Canadian Press all-star Eastern team. Backfielder Shelly Lush, and Cal Moore, one of the best secondary defence players in the country. Despite this Ponton has high hopes.

Bryant Cup Entries

Members of the Colwood Golf Club are reminded that the entry list for the annual Dr. Bryant Cup competition will close with Secretary Jim McIlraith next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Betty Jameson Will Meet Jane Cothran In National Final

Defending Titleholder to Battle South Carolina Miss for United States Golf Championship Today—Miss Jameson Beats Clara Callender—Turns In Smart Exhibition

DEL MONTE, Cal., Sept. 27 (AP).—The defending title-holder, Betty Jameson, of San Antonio, scored a 5-and-3 win over Clara Callender, Long Beach, Cal., today in the semi-final round of the United States amateur championship for women.

In the thirty-six-hole final tomorrow, the Texas star will meet Jane Cothran, of Greenville, S.C., two-up winner today over Mrs. James Ferrie, of Pasadena.

A high wind whipped over Pebble Beach course, bordered by the ocean on eight holes, but this extra hazard on a normally tough test failed to halt the defending champion. She cracked out a one-under-par 37 for the first nine, where she held a three-up lead, and closed out the match with an eagle on the 406-yard fifteenth. Miss Callender, former California titlist, had a birdie four on the same hole.

Miss Jameson finished one under par, which was about five strokes better than she had shot since she qualified with an 84.

Her rival in the final, Miss Cothran, knocked over the present California champion in her drive to the last round. The South Carolina miss, however, finished approximately ten shots above par.

Miss Cothran, shooting a 40, was four up on the Californian at the turn. The latter, after turning in some fine rounds earlier in the tournament, went completely off her game in the semi-finals.

New U.S. Golf Champion

THE perfect ending to any golf tournament, the home-town boy making good, came true in the final of the United States Amateur golf championship, with Richard D. Chapman as crowned king of the fairways, and all Mamaroneck on the job to welcome him as he put the finishing touches to Duff McCullough, of Philadelphia. The final count was eleven up and nine to play, the second most decisive score in the history of the tournament. Chapman, an unorthodox swinger and a great putter, played some grand golf throughout, and his victory was naturally enough popular with the home-towners. Dick calls Mamaroneck his home, and it was his greatest triumph after years of campaigning along the amateur tournament trail.

BURRARDS TO JOURNEY EAST

Vancouver Lacrosse Team To Skip Winnipeg—Will Face Montreal

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—Vancouver Burrards will pass up a scheduled game at Winnipeg and go right through to Montreal for their semi-final lacrosse series with Montreal Indians, October 3 and 4, Coach Les Dickinson said today as his team prepared to leave for the East tomorrow night.

Jack Streight, secretary of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association, said the Winnipeg game was abandoned because a number of the Prairie players had joined the Royal Canadian Air Force and because the Winnipeg Arena raised the rental price for the sudden-death play-off game scheduled September 30.

Winners of the Montreal-Vancouver semi-finals, a best-of-three series, meet the winner of the St. Catharines-Brampton series for the Canadian championship.

MAY ASSIST RECRUITING

The aerial defences of the Pacific Coast are to be very considerably expanded in machines, personnel and equipment, as circumstances permit, the minister announced.

This statement was made on his arrival in Victoria after an inspection of the R.C.A.F. station at Patricia Bay. He intimated that the existing establishment at Patricia Bay was to be increased by the transfer of additional squadrons.

Major Power said he was very favorably impressed by his visit to Patricia Bay, and was more than satisfied with the calibre of officers and men, and with the excellent lay-out of runways, buildings and other features of the station.

"They're a splendid lot of boys," he remarked, after seeing the air force men on parade and in drill manoeuvres.

The Air Minister had a heavy day yesterday. In the morning he inspected Vancouver's elementary training school operating under the Empire Air Training Plan, and addressed the Vancouver Canadian Club at luncheon, before flying to Patricia Bay, where he spent some hours inspecting the station and personnel. He reached the city soon after 7 p.m. and spent half an hour in the Empress Hotel, meeting newspapermen and others, before going to Government House, where a dinner was given in his honor by Hon. E. W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor, and Mrs. Hamber.

FLYING NORTH

Major Power spent the night at the Empress Hotel, and this morning he will be flown by R.C.A.F. plane on a tour of inspection of other R.C.A.F. stations on the Island, which will take him to Ucluelet and Coal Island. Weather permitting, he will also fly today to the Queen Charlotte Islands to inspect the air station there, before returning to Vancouver. His programme calls for departure from Vancouver tomorrow, as he has several inspection visits to make on the Prairies on his way back to Ottawa.

On the flight from Vancouver and the inspection of Patricia Bay, the minister was accompanied by Air Vice-Marshal L. S. Breadner, chief of air staff; Air Commodore Godfrey, Group Captain R. H. Coolard, in charge of air force buildings, and other ranking air force men.

In Vancouver, Major Power told the Canadian Club that the Empire Air Training Plan would be nearly a year ahead of schedule by the end of 1940. He said that, barring accidents, there would be no shortage of flying equipment for the schools now operating and for those to open within the next few months.

"This is Canada's most important war effort, her greatest single contribution," he said. "We are meeting difficulties every day, but remember that it is the biggest single undertaking ever embarked upon in Canada—bigger than either of the greatest trans-continental railways."

Air fighters from Canada, Britain and other parts of the Empire are winning their battles with the Nazis because of superior training, the minister declared. He referred to the air training plan as the "university of the air," with an enrollment greater than that of all Canadian universities. Canada, he said, had the task of providing 80 per cent of the pupils and 90 per cent of the instructors, nearly all of whom must be trained in instructors' schools.

BRITISH DESTROY 133 NAZI PLANES

churches and houses and casualties resulted, some of them fatal.

THOUSANDS WATCH FIGHTS

Wave after wave of Germans roared over the coast, sometimes at great height, but each time the defences were prepared. Thousands watched the fights and cheered as raider after raider fell and the Germans bailed out.

It was believed that at Orpington and Chiselhurst alone ten planes were brought down. A twin-engined bomber crashed in flames in the direction of Dorking, and in a big battle over Red Hill two more were bagged.

A bomber also crashed near Richmond in Surrey.

Two, possibly three, were brought down over various Surrey villages.

In one battle royal sixty planes were engaged and the raiders lost one certain, and another possibly, before being driven to the coast.

There were some fatal casualties in South London, where twenty bombs were dropped and at least one fatality in a Southwestern area where apparently a deliberate attack was made on a residential area.

HEAVY TOLL IN NORTHEAST

The heaviest toll of enemy raiders was taken over the Northeast coast which the Nazis have been using as a main gateway to London.

Four Nazis shot down north of Eastbourne, with two airmen captured; two down in the vicinity of Sevenoaks, over which a number of Germans bailed out; two raiders crashed in fields near Beggin Hill; a Dornier crashed at sea four miles west of Dungeness, none of the crew seen to bail out; yellow-nosed Messerschmitt brought down at Brenley, near Faversham, and pilot killed; another Messerschmitt shot down near a Southwest coast town after a dog fight.

The same sort of thing continued at other points until darkness. The toll of raiders downed mounted steadily.

One Messerschmitt pilot was rescued by fishermen after crashing into the sea off the Southeast coast. He shouted in broken English, "Come qvick, come qvick, vater ver cold." He was burned about the face and arms and it was believed his two companions were dead.

DAMAGE IN LIVERPOOL

Thursday night's Nazi raids on England left considerable damage in the Liverpool port and shipbuilding areas; in residential Southampton, site of an important naval base, and in the Northwest.

A famous Liverpool theatre, among the oldest in England, was destroyed by fire after an incendiary bomb had fallen on it. Surrounding property, including some residences, was damaged.

Two waves of raiders roared across the great port of Southampton during the night, attempting to blast industrial plants and workers' homes. Authorities said some residential sections were hit and a number of persons killed and wounded. Two British fighters crashed during dog fights and six attackers were reported shot down.

The Air Ministry said thirty-four planes were destroyed in yesterday's actions, two by anti-aircraft fire and the remainder by fighter planes, some in a furious battle over the Isle of Wight. Eight British fighters were reported lost.

During the night a bomb demolished tenement houses and flats in Central London, killing eight persons, including a baby and a member of the Home Guard. A ninth victim died before he could be released from the wreckage.

Mrs. C. Pearce and Mrs. R. Williams captured top honors in the twoball foursome tournament held yesterday afternoon at the Uplands Golf Club.

CAPITOL SHOWING BRILLIANT DRAMA

Picture, "Foreign Correspondent," Widely Acclaimed by Leading Critics

Alfred Hitchcock's brilliant drama, "Foreign Correspondent," which has been widely acclaimed by leading critics, will open today at the Capitol Theatre.

It is one of Hitchcock's most masterful offerings, being crammed with suspense, mystery and intrigue. It's the story of a crime reporter on a New York daily who is dispatched to Europe as a foreign correspondent. The reporter, excellently portrayed by Joel McCrea, encounters amazing adventures when he comes in contact with international espionage.

In addition to McCrea, the picture boasts a strong cast, which includes Laraine Day, George Sanders, Robert Benchley, Albert Basserman and Herbert Marshall.

ATLAS THEATRE — "The Mortal Storm," which ends today at the Atlas Theatre, deals with the experiences of a family "somewhere in Europe," who become a house divided as a result of political dissension. It is dramatic, simply told, effective. It is the picturization rather than the fictionizing of daily headlines, presented with no more fanaticism than the report of a foreign correspondent.

DOMINION THEATRE — Replete with hilarious situations and sparkling dialogue, Paramount's comedy-drama "The Great McGinty," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, is heralded as one of the most satisfying pieces of screen entertainment of the current season.

PLAZA THEATRE — "It's in the Air," George Formby's latest Ealing production, which ends today at the Plaza Theatre, is a spectacular aerial extravaganza, telling of youth's hectic adventures and misadventures as a dispatch rider in the Royal Air Force.

Vancouver Girl Is Back From London

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—A former University of British Columbia coed, Miss Margery Hamilton, has returned to Vancouver after serving for almost a year as a member of the London County Council Ambulance Corps in England.

Miss Hamilton, weighing 100 pounds, drove a three-ton truck during her service with the corps. She took part in the evacuation of Dunkerque.

Mistress—Did you mail my letter, Mary? It was most important, you know.

Maid—Yes, ma'am, I did.

Mistress—Then why did you bring back the three cents I gave you for the stamp?

Maid—I didn't have to use it. I just slipped the letter in the box while no one was looking.

"Were you afraid to ask your boy friend for money?"

"No, I was calm and collected."

Security Prices Drop Sharply at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—The stock market slipped its moorings again today as trading sentiment apparently was given a further jolt by foreign news.

Dealings were light during most of the proceedings but volume picked up in the final hour when prices were off fractions to more than 2 points at the day's close. Industrials were the principal sufferers.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .6 of a point at 44.1 the fourth successive setback for this composite. Transfers totaled 561,840 shares against 440,570 yesterday. The upturn of last week was more than eliminated.

Speculative forces, brokers said, were somewhat disturbed by the announcement of the military-economic agreement between Japan and the Rome-Berlin Axis which generally was believed aimed at the United States.

The triple alliance of Germany, Italy and Japan jolted bond prices lower and caused a sell-off particularly of Japanese issues, which slumped 2 to 8 points.

The decline embraced corporate liens and foreign dollar loans, with one main exception.

The risers were Berlin City Electric 6 1-2's, Frankfort 6 1-2's and Rhine-Westphalia 6's, all of which are in default.

Brokerage sources said an Amsterdam house was responsible for most of the buying.

U.S. Governments slipped as much as 9-32 point in one case.

DOW JONES AVERAGES

Dow Jones Averages closed today as follows:

Thirty industrials, 131.77, off 1.73.
Twenty rails, 28.27, off .32.
Twenty utilities, 21.75, off .41.
Total sales 560,000 shares.

ANSWER TO LAST PUZZLE

LESLIE HOWARD GATHERS FACTS

Noted Actor Gives Up Screen To Combat Nazi Propaganda

LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP).—The Nazis have made a reporter out of Actor Leslie Howard.

For the last several weeks he has been going into raided areas gathering material for weekly broadcasts. He writes it himself and presents it on a British Broadcasting Corporation series broadcast every Monday night to Canada and the United States.

He said he has found it impossible to concentrate on picture making since he returned to England two days before the war broke out.

MOVIES IN AIR

"One finds it hard to get excited over whether boy meets girls in the fifth instead of the sixth reel when there is a fleet of Messerschmitts overhead."

What does interest Howard, he indicated, is combatting Nazi propaganda.

"These dictators are always shouting about their new systems, whereas democracy actually is the newest of all political concepts."

Then, as he drew thoughtfully on his cigarette, he told of his plans to do a broadcast showing how "these dictatorships are old stuff."

"Our old William the Conqueror," Howard said, "was nothing but a dictator and a gangster. We first suffered from a totalitarian system then and we have been battling it ever since."

Howard is scheduled for a part in a new British movie called "Forty-Ninth Parallel." The picture will be shot mostly in Northern Canada, but Howard will do his sequence in London. He is much too interested in the war, he says, to leave England now.

The proud mother was walking down the High Street with her son—Lance-Corporal, acting, unpaid.

Puzzled, she said: "Tom, is it only officers, who have to salute you?"

NEW BRIDES MUST GET CERTIFICATE

Registration Under Canadian Act To Be Under New Name—Residence Change Notifiable

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (CP).—October 1 is moving day in many parts of Canada, but moving may be expensive this year for those who forget to notify the Dominion statistician at Ottawa.

The Dominion statistician is custodian of the national registration records, and the registration regulations provide that any person changing his place of residence must notify the statistician within fourteen days or be liable to a fine not exceeding $50.

Movers do not get a new registration certificate, but the alteration is made on the master card at the Bureau of Statistics.

Persons who marry also must notify the statistician. Either of the parties in the marriage may give notice for both.

The bridegroom will not be issued a new certificate, but the bride, who is changing her name, will.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Rex vs. McLeod—Elmore Meredith's main argument yesterday was directed against the particulars as furnished the accused by the Crown at the preliminary hearing. It appears these particulars included not only the information as to the cash balance, upon which the charge was laid, but included particulars as to other share transactions as well.

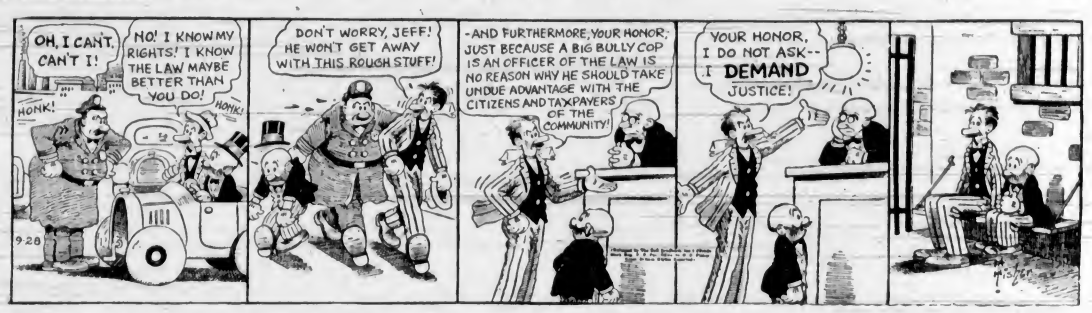

Mr. Meredith contends these latter particulars would place the indictment under Code Section 413, with the result that the accused was tried under two sections of the Code and the conviction is bad for duplicity; he further argues the evidence upon which the conviction is founded is equivocal and not conclusive, as is evidenced by the remarks of the trial judge as to reasonable doubt when finding the accused guilty.

Mr. Meredith's further argument and Morris Soskin's reply will occupy the full time of the court on Monday.

5 IN MEMORIUM

WEBBER—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Webber, who passed away September 28, 1939.

Loving Mother, so gentle and kind,
Wonderful memories left behind.
Long days and nights she bore her pain,
To wait for cure, but all in vain,
Till God, who knew what was best,
Took her home and gave her rest.

Gone from us dear Mother,
Leaving memories that death cannot take away.
Memories that will always linger.
While upon this earth we stay.

Inserted by her loving daughters, Mrs. V. Conner and Mrs. J. B. Connor, and grandsons.

I'LL WAIT FOR YOU

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS
(Copyright, 1940, by Margaret Gorman Nichols)

CHAPTER XXXIV

Norman was so unlike himself, looked worried and preoccupied. Edwina took her little white-shod feet off the divan, put them on the rug and leaned forward intently. "I didn't mean to deceive Carol, Norman. It was the crazy mood I was in—scared and desperate. Just to say it made me believe I was going to marry you. Please say something. Don't make me feel that I've let you down, you of all people. I'll explain to Carol . . .

"Oh, it doesn't matter, Edwina. I'm sorry I brought it up. I wasn't trying to check up on either you or Carol. Forget it. Let's play double solitaire."

"All right. Has the rain stopped?"

He said, queerly, "The storm is over and the lights are probably on at the quarry. It was a regular blackout and tons of rain. People were trapped in the bathhouses and the few who ventured out got soaked wandering around looking for their cars. Yes, the storm is over."

They played double solitaire for quite a long time although at the very beginning Edwina saw that Norman's mind was not on the game and that his efforts to be amusing and interesting were forced flat. Several times she almost stopped the game, but hesitated, thinking that she had no right to intrude upon his thoughts and that it would be rude of her to question. And frequently her mind wandered happily, lazily into the months to come and she saw herself, busy and contented, learning to do things she had never had to do, and liking the conquest of small inconsequential things heretofore ignored. She would learn to cook and to make her own clothes and balance a budget, and she would be, for the first time since she was a child, an anonymous person who owed nothing to anyone. And she would make friends of girls as alone as she . . .

It would be fun, and, as Norman had said, a challenge. Nothing could frighten you when you were young and strong and ambitious. And she would come back to Newton to see Amy Durfee. And she would come back, not as she had this time, but as a person who had given something to Newton . . .

When she glanced at Norman again and saw his eyes distant, his fine hands still, she said, "Let's stop, darling. You're not thinking about it. And I have a strong suspicion that it's my turn to do something for you. What is it? You look—well, stricken is the word—as if a blow had knocked you out. Bad news from New York? I remember what you said the other night about its being easier to push somebody else over a fence than to get over it by yourself . . ."

He got up and walked the length of the room, then came back to her again.

"Edwina, what sort of person is Alan Harding? Or don't you know him very well?"

Did she know Alan . . .

"I used to know him very well. Why?"

But even as she asked she knew all at once what the combination of desperation and false hopes had not let her see until now.

"Don't you know? No, I suppose you don't. It's a tribute to my ability to wear a false face."

"You love Carol . . ." She frowned, her eyes troubled. "You love Carol, Norman. That's it, isn't it? No, I didn't know. Your false face and my being so mixed up with my own problems and Carol's being engaged to Alan."

His smile was that of a hurt, puzzled boy, grimly amused.

"What do I do now," he said, go out on a good spree? The first time I saw her, the day we both came, I thought she was the loveliest thing I'd ever seen. But the next day we went on a picnic together and I knew then that she had something more than beauty. When a man tells a girl the story of his life, when he wants her to know him, it must be love. I wanted to tell her everything about myself, the things you never tell anyone. I didn't, of course. Good reasons—Alan and the fact that she held me off. She's . . ."

Edwina said, "Don't try to explain love, darling. No one can. In love, two and two don't make four. It's the one thing for which no one can find a formula. It's still boy meets girl and no power on earth can explain it. I'm not guessing. I know. Why didn't we fall in love? The stage was set. But we didn't. I think Carol's one of the loveliest things I've ever seen, too, and you're the man I wish I could love and can't. So you found the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow here in Newton—late in May, wasn't it?"

"I've seen her and touched her and kissed her. But that's all there is—and that's all there's ever going to be."

He smiled again. "You made one inopportune entrance in your life, Edwina. The day you came to my house and found us together, the day you told her you and I were going to be married. I had just kissed her then and I was going to say it all. When you came, I couldn't. And when I telephoned her after she got home, she apologized for the whole thing! Apologized!

"I saw her tonight at the quarry and we said good-bye, good luck and all that sort of thing. Maybe I should be a better loser. But there have been times when I've felt she was in something that she couldn't get out of. A girl like Carol doesn't steal kisses in dark corners and then go off blithely and marry another chap. That's why I asked you about Alan Harding. What sort of person is he?"

That Body of Yours

by JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

TREATING THE NERVOUS PATIENT

A young man of twenty-five consulted a physician because of an irritable stomach, diarrhoea, partial loss of memory, inability to concentrate, frequent passing of urine, and sleeplessness. He explained that he had visited two other physicians who could find no organic trouble; one had advised him to take a trip or vacation and the other had told him to "forget it."

The physician, after an hour of patient questioning and examination, told him that just as the other physicians had not found any organic disease, he also was unable to find any.

"However," said the physician, "There is no question but that you have the symptoms of which you complain — indigestion, insomnia, forgetfulness and others—but they are not caused by any disease but because your mind is upset; you are trying to work out some problem. If you had told these other physicians that you were trying to work out a solution to your problem, you would not have found it necessary to consult me."

The patient thereupon told him his problem, but the physician advised him to settle it one way or the other—a straight yes or no—and his symptoms would likely disappear.

With sudden determination, the patient dressed himself and went out of the physician's office with springy foot. Just whether his plan for solving his difficulty was best is not my point. The fact that his mind was made up removed the constant tension of mind and body, and his symptoms disappeared. The main point about the successful treatment of this case was that the physician did two things. First, he made a thorough examination to that the patient was convinced that no organic trouble existed, and second, he was patient enough to listen to the patient's long story.

These same suggestions are made by Dr. Edward Weiss, Philadelphia, in The Pennsylvania Medical Journal, who states that the examination gives the nervous patient reassurance and is the first step in the right direction. Further it is a good rule for the physician to listen rather than talk. Often just the talking out of the problem with the physician will relieve the symptoms and frequently a small adjustment will accomplish real help.

COMMISSARS APPOINTED

BUCHAREST, Sept. 27 (AP).—Iron Guardist commissars were appointed yesterday to manage the seven largest Rumanian oil companies, British and American-owned. Only German and Italian-owned concerns are exempt from such control.

STRENGTH NEEDED

Antique Dealer—"May I help you, madam?"

Mother of Growing Family—"Yes, I'm looking for an Italian table of the resistance period."

SHE WAS WORRIED

Into the cosy cottage of the dear old lady came two billeted soldiers. She greeted them with a friendly smile, showed them to their room, and watched them dump their belongings—tin helmets, gas respirators, packs, kitbags, etc.

Then a worried look came into her faded eyes as she asked:

"Young men, are you sure you came by all those things honestly?"

ONE WAY TO LEARN

Wife—"Oh, dear! What shall I do now?"
